ENLIGHTENED CONSERVATION
PRESERVED THE GALÁPAG

Designated the first-ever UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1978 because of their unique biodiversity, and the inspiration for Charles Darwin's theory of evolution, the Galápagos Islands already had 97% of their landmass protected as a national park. However, less than one percent of the surrounding water was fully protected. As a result, legal and illegal fishing have been taking a rising toll on wildlife over the past few years. Now an 18,000 square mile zone is fully protected. Map courtesy of National Geographic Maps.

SOURCE: MINISTRY OF THE ENVIRONMENT ECUADOR

DEAR TRAVELER,

On March 21st, I was honored to be part of an historic event in Quito, Ecuador. It was the signing of a decree by President Rafael Correa declaring a third of the Galápagos Marine Reserve as a fully-protected no-take zone (where nothing can be extracted, even ocean wildlife). This is a very important decree that will make a huge difference over time in ensuring the vibrancy and biodiversity of the Galápagos marine system, and also add to the future of the human community that depends on this. As President Correa said as he addressed the gathering attending the signing, "This is a gift to the world." He's right—these islands and the waters that surround them are a world treasure.

There are a number of reasons this significant decision by the government of Ecuador was made, but two are vital as I see it.

The first is the tireless efforts and compelling argument of my good friend, Dr. Enric Sala, National Geographic Explorer-in-Residence, and the Director of the Pristine Seas Project. This past December he led the National Geographic Pristine Seas team on an expedition to the Galápagos to survey its extraordinary marine environments. The research team documented the treasures of this biodiversity hotspot, while also making a case for greater protection of its waters. Inspired by Dr. Sala and his team's findings, the government of Ecuador confidently announced the creation of the marine sanctuary encompassing 18,000 square miles of fully-protected ocean, containing the most biodiverse habitats in the world, as well as 21 smaller conservation areas scattered throughout the volcanic archipelago. You'll have daily opportunities to explore this rich undersea, if you travel with us.

An additional, and vital component in this landmark 'victory for the ocean,' as I see it is—the consistent, year in, year out support our guests have provided to Galápagos—to scientists, conservationists and forums that have explored how to effect policy in positive ways.

Since my father's pioneering expedition to Galápagos in 1967, I have continuously felt blessed to provide these expeditions to people, who in turn feel blessed by witnessing Galápagos' marvels; and to see how together we can change our world in good ways because of it.

So join us in 2016—to celebrate enlightened conservation—by exploring Galápagos or by participating in our Make Art, Make A Difference program (see page 33.)

We're offering complimentary airfare to make the idea even more compelling for you—see pages 16-17 for details.

All the best,

Sven-Olof Lindblad

WHAT DOES ALL THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

Given the mandate to protect Galápagos, the National Park exercises strict control over visitation— islands able to be visited, number of guests on an island at any given time, and duration of time spent on an island. This would seem to indicate that you would have the same experience regardless with which company you choose to travel. Not true. Given our nearly 50-year heritage in Galápagos and our commitment to the islands, we're dedicated to giving you the richest, most in-depth and joyful experience possible—and we're uniquely equipped to do so.

UNIQUE UNDERSEA PROGRAM

IN 7 DAYS IN THE GALÁPAGOS
YOU'LL ACTIVELY EXPLO

ARCHIPELAGO, RE & DISCOVER

Charles Darwin's visit to the Galápagos in 1835 is one of the most famous few weeks in the history of science. And in less time, you'll actively explore and discover everything he did. In fact, you'll see more. The ship travels every night, so each day you awake to a new island, different habitats and wildlife. (And one of the best breakfasts on Earth!) Whether your observations (and photos) will merely change your life, or have some greater impact on the world remains to be seen. But you will have the time of your life!

MAKE IT ACTIVE & PERSONAL,
TOOLS LET YOU

OUR ONBOARD EXPLORE UP CLOSE

Clockwise from left: Exploring by kayak on a personal adventure; guests are welcome to visit the bridge on board to learn about navigation and share the captain's view; Zodiacs offer the freedom to explore around the islands, up close; Galápagos wildlife is curious and definitely unafraid!

We carry full snorkeling equipment including shorty wetsuits, snorkels, fins, masks, and snorkel buoyancy vests for all guests.

Clockwise from top: Snorkeling in Galápagos means encountering penguins, too; during the voyage non-snorkelers will have several opportunities to see the undersea from the dry comfort of our glass-bottom boat; acrobatic sea lions often play with our guests; young guests snorkeling and bonding; experienced snorkelers will relish the daily exercise & diversity.

GALÁPAGOS OFFERS THE WORLD'S BEST PHOTO OPS—SO TAKE YOUR BEST PHOTOS EVER

Travel aboard our ships to help you take your best photos ever. Whether you think of yourself as a photographer or not, or you have a smartphone, point-and-shoot or DSLR, the Lindblad-National Geographic certified photo instructors aboard can meet you where you are on your photographic journey. From help with your camera's setting, to tips in the field to minimize challenges (Galápagos' hard equatorial light); from maximizing the incredible daily photo ops to figuring out how to edit your trove of images, you'll find expedition photography deeply engaging. In fact, it's so much fun it 'infects' everyone aboard with the shooter spirit.

RELY ON OUR STAFF FOR EXPERT GUIDANCE

Hand-picked and Lindblad-trained, our staff is the best in the islands. And with our generous staff to guest ratio of 1:12, you'll have the opportunity to enjoy new personalities and perspectives daily.

As frog-green fish dart through the leaves, the dolphins, pink as bubble gum, snap at them with long, toothy beaks. This is not some kaleidoscope dreamscape from a novel by Gabriel Garcia Marquez; this is the wet season in the upper Amazon."*

DAYS 11-18: PACAYA-SAMIRIA
NATIONAL RESERVE

Spend this week exploring the Pacaya-Samiria National Reserve, a pristine swath of jungle—one of the largest in South America—stretching more than five million acres, and harboring some of the Amazon’s most fascinating flora and fauna. Bordered by the Marañón and the Ucayali, two powerful rivers that converge to create the famed Amazon, the reserve floods annually with nutrient-rich waters and is known locally as the Mirrored Forest for the reflections created by the glassy water.

Set out into this remarkable wilderness on daily excursions by skiff, kayak, and, when the water level permits, hikes on terra firma. Skim past giant lily pads afloat on black-water lakes, and venture deep into the rain forest on narrow tributaries. Spot sloths and monkeys, including variably colored saddleback tamarins, noisy and shaggy-tailed monk saki monkeys. Watch for an astounding variety of birds, from tanagers and hummingbirds to parrots and endangered scarlet macaws. In the river, look for massive paiche fish, the Amazon’s largest; rare pink dolphins; and the infamous piranhas.

Hoatzin.

Enjoy an opportunity to swim in a lake in the reserve’s interior. Seek out Victoria amazonica, a giant water lily that grows in small lagoons. Go on a bird-watching hike, listening for the vocal oropendola and then looking for its telltale yellow tail. Watch the sun set and listen to a cacophonous symphony of nocturnal animals calling out across the treetops. Then slip through the forest in a skiff as night falls, using a spotlight to find caimans, frogs, fishing bats and other creatures of the night.

Pay a visit to one of the communities on the reserve’s edge and get to know the ribereños, those who live on the riverbanks, and their age-old traditions. Meet local women and children, and watch them make jewelry and other handicrafts. Learn how local subsistence farmers cultivate wild plants and trees to earn income. Hear about how local residents find edible fruits and indigenous plants with medicinal properties hidden in the jungle. (B,L,D Daily)

DAY 19: NAUTA/IQUITOS/LIMA

Enjoy one last morning excursion by skiff to view wildlife. After lunch, disembark in Nauta, and return to Iquitos overland for a late-afternoon flight to Lima. Wyndham Costa del Sol Lima Airport Hotel. (B,L)
