

• WHAT TO PACK • UNDER SAIL: GREECE TO THE DALMATIAN COAST

The emphasis on board ship is on casual attire; dress is never formal, even at dinner. Some passengers choose to remain in their daytime attire in the evenings, while others prefer a casual change of clothing. However, for the welcome and farewell dinners, you may want to have something slightly dressier, a blouse and skirt or a simple dress for women and a sports jacket and tie for men, although this is entirely optional.

Please remember that the sun is strong and you can burn easily. We recommend that you be prepared with sunscreen, sunglasses and a hat, and limit your exposure to direct sunlight.

Here is a list of things you will want to bring. If you have any questions, please give us a call.

- Windbreaker.
- Lightweight raincoat, rain poncho, or collapsible umbrella.
- Comfortable walking shoes with rubber soles and good support (for aboard ship and shore excursions).
Most people find tennis shoes or sneakers suitable. You may want to bring two pairs so that you will have a dry pair if one should get wet or muddy.
- “Teva” or similar sandals. These are lightweight, rubber sandals with adjustable ankle straps, available at sporting goods stores.
- A sweater, sweatshirt, and/or jacket. Some people find the air-conditioning aboard to be cool, so a light sweater that can be worn in the evenings is advisable.
- One or two bathing suits.
- Usual assortment of short and long-sleeved pants and shirts and other layered clothing.
- Sunscreen, sunglasses, and a wide-brimmed hat for sun protection.
- Waterproof insect repellent.
- A pair of binoculars.
- A small backpack or rucksack; a waterproof bag to hold your camera and/or binoculars.
- Travel alarm clock.
- Camera, lenses and plenty of film and/or memory cards and extra camera batteries.
