A Lindblad-National Geographic expedition—
Into the heart of the Upper Amazon

Lindblad
Expeditions

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC™

Lindblad Expeditions and National Geographic have joined forces to further inspire the world through expedition travel. Our collaboration in exploration, research, technology and conservation will provide extraordinary travel experiences and disseminate geographic knowledge around the globe.

Dear Traveler,

In an era when most of the Earth's surface has been mapped by satellite, one could argue that the Upper Amazon is the ultimate holdout—a bastion of mystery that defies technological intrusion. Hidden under a dense jungle canopy, this region is a vast flood forest. River levels can rise and fall by several feet overnight, creating new networks of waterways or revealing new forest trails—each one never before explored by kayaker or hiker. Ever changing, it defies the mapmakers, and offers us a chance for genuine exploration.

You'll find our river ship, the Delfin II, is perfectly suited for venturing into these unexplored regions. She is agile enough to sail up winding, wildlife-rich tributaries and a fleet of skiffs and kayaks aboard allow us to venture even further afield. You'll find she is also more than comfortable as our base camp. Recently renovated, the ship offers spacious, modern interiors and artful decorative accents—many of them made by people in some of the villages we'll visit. The air-conditioned top deck is an ideal place to spend the afternoon, watching the riverscapes glide by, and the open decks are perfect for catching the cooling evening breeze and sounds of the jungle.

Our staff, unmatched in the region, will be the key to your experience. You'll go with a veteran Lindblad expedition leader as well as a Lindblad-National Geographic certified photo instructor—a naturalist who is specially trained to help you capitalize on the rare wildlife sightings while shooting in the often challenging conditions of the rain forest. And our hand-picked local guides have more experience than anyone when it comes to finding the wildlife you seek, since most of them grew up along the river. They're the most gracious hosts we could have when we enter villages along the river.

Our ship, our staff, and our expedition experience ensure you'll get the absolute most out of this dynamic rain forest. I hope you'll join us in the Amazon.

Best regards,

DEEP IN THE WILD LUXURY & COMFORT

Discover the wildest reaches of the remote Amazon—in supreme comfort aboard the 28-guest Delfin II, the river’s finest ship. Specially designed to sail these winding green-shrouded headwaters, it can venture into the jungle’s wild heart—and its fleet of nimble skiffs and kayaks allow us to venture even deeper.

Panoramic windows bring extravagant river views inside the air-conditioned, newly renovated top deck and staterooms. Rattan sofas in the lounge are perfect for relaxing and watching the riverscapes glide past in the afternoon, and they offer ideal seats for evening Recaps and lively presentations on wildlife photography, medicinal plants in the Amazon, and much more.

Dining is a unique rain forest experience. From the rainbow of fresh-squeezed juices in the morning to the chocolate placed on your pillow each night, most of the ingredients used aboard are sustainably sourced from the region we explore. And Peru’s tradition of flavorful fusion cuisine ensures that each day will offer fresh palate pleasures. The dining room’s artful table settings are a surprise at every meal and feature décor crafted by gifted artisans in the village we’ll visit. Enjoy active days exploring, and return to the finest accommodations on the river.

Clockwise from top: The intimate, 28-guest Delfin II; staterooms are spacious, with panoramic river views; massages are offered on board; five-star, sustainable dining aboard; the newly renovated top deck comfortably accommodates the entire expedition community during daily Recaps.

EXPLORE A JUNGLE ALIVE & MYSTERIOUS

Discover the rain forest's wild pulse. Strange birdcalls fill the air. The water's inky surface roils. Foliage shakes overhead revealing a dark glimpse of monkeys gliding through the canopy.

This flooded rain forest is a cathedral of green, opulent in vegetation so dense that what lies within much of its boundaries remains a mystery. Explore its narrow river tributaries with vaulted ceilings of vines, and perches for scores of rare birds. You'll see sloths, troops of vocal monkeys, colorful butterflies, caimans, and more. One afternoon you'll have a chance to swim in a peaceful lagoon frequented by pink river dolphins. On another, you can choose to transit the waterways by local catamaran and hike to a network of suspension bridges that go into the forest canopy and a habitat that is altogether different from the forest floor and the river.

During high-water season December through May, the rising waters reveal winding jungle tributaries perfect for exploring by skiff. During low-water season, from June through November, we're able to disembark our skiffs and hike in to explore jungle newly exposed to air. And all season long, our onboard kayak fleet enables serene, personal encounters with jungle wildness.

WELCOMING RIBEREÑOS

LOCAL PEOPLE OF THE RESERVE

Indigenous communities in the remote Amazon have lived in harmony with the land and river for millennia. These ribereños continue to make their lives on the banks of the river, staying close to ancestral traditions while embracing education and empowerment. Visit their villages and experience their extraordinary generosity as they invite us into their communities and homes. Visit their schools to meet the teachers and students who are eager to share a bit of their studies or a song. Meet women, men, and youth who are leading community improvement projects. You may have a chance for a mutually rewarding encounter—purchasing one of the ribereños' handicrafts from their small market.

The welcoming spirit and generosity of the ribereños inspires generosity in return. The Lindblad-National Geographic Fund—with donations from our guests—supports conservation, research, education, and community development projects in the regions we explore. In the Peruvian Amazon, a recent grantee is Minga Peru, a nonprofit working to improve the lives of ribereños in the remote Amazon through radio programs, training, and education in income generation projects including agroforestry, fish ponds, and sustainable management of natural resources. Together with our guests we are strengthening local communities and decreasing pressure on virgin forests and rivers.

"The dolphins are swimming through the trees. Bending sinuous bodies, they glide through branches and curl like snakes around fluted trunks. As frog-green fish dart through the leaves, the dolphins, pink as bubble gum, snap at them with long, toothy beaks. This is not some kaleidoscope dreamscape from a novel by Gabriel Garcia Marquez; this is the wet season in the upper Amazon."

—MARK JENKINS, "RIVER DOLPHINS," NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC MAGAZINE, JUNE 2009

EXPERIENCE & EXPERTISE

We have conducted numerous Amazon expeditions in our history, and launched our first voyage aboard the beautiful, 28-guest Delfin II in August 2010. In order to provide expedition leadership in this pristine region, we tapped our tenured expedition leaders to lead our Amazon voyages, providing our guests with the same in-depth interpretation they find on our other expeditions. Our veteran team is highly knowledgeable about this locale, and trained to illuminate all the discoveries you'll make.

Blue & yellow macaw in flight.

DAY 1: U.S./LIMA, PERU

Arrive in Lima in the late evening and transfer to our conveniently located hotel, Wyndham Costa del Sol Lima Airport Hotel.

DAY 2: LIMA/IQUITOS/NAUTA

Enjoy a morning tour of Lima, then fly to Iquitos and continue overland to the riverside village of Nauta, where the Delfin II awaits. Settle into your cabin, and gather for a welcome dinner of fine Peruvian cuisine on board. Tonight, step out on deck to gaze at the magnificent Amazon night sky. (B,L,D)

DAYS 3-8: PACAYA-SAMIRIA NATIONAL RESERVE

Spend this week exploring the Pacaya-Samiria National Reserve, a pristine swath of jungle—stretching more than five million acres, and harboring some of the Amazon's most fascinating flora and fauna. Bordered by the Marañón and the Ucayali, these two powerful rivers converge to create the famed Amazon, which floods annually with nutrient-rich waters and is known locally as the Mirrored Forest for the reflections created by its glassy water.

Set out into this remarkable wilderness on daily excursions by skiff, kayak, and, when the water level permits, hikes on dry land. Skim past giant lily pads afloat on black-water lakes, and venture deep into the rain forest on narrow tributaries. Spot sloths and monkeys, including variably colored saddleback tamarins, noisy howlers, and shaggy-tailed monk saki monkeys. Watch for an astounding variety of birds, from tanagers and hummingbirds to parrots and endangered scarlet macaws. In the river, look for massive paiche fish, the Amazon's largest; rare pink dolphins; and the infamous piranhas.

Enjoy an opportunity to swim in a lake in the reserve's interior. Seek out victoria amazonica, a giant water lily that grows in small lagoons. Go on a bird-watching hike, listening for the vocal oropendola and then looking for its telltale yellow tail. Watch the sun set and listen to a cacophonous symphony of nocturnal animals calling out across the treetops. Then slip through the forest in a skiff as night falls, using a spotlight to find caimans, frogs, fishing bats and other creatures of the night.

Pay a visit to one of the communities on the reserve's edge and get to know the ribereños, those who live on the riverbanks, and their age-old traditions. Enjoy watching them make jewelry and other local handicrafts. Learn how local subsistence farmers cultivate wild plants and trees to earn income. Hear about how the locals find edible fruits and indigenous plants with medicinal properties hidden in the jungle. (B,L,D DAILY)

DAY 9: NAUTA/IQUITOS/LIMA

Enjoy one last morning excursion by skiff to view wildlife. After lunch, disembark in Nauta, and return to Iquitos overland for a late-afternoon flight to Lima. Overnight at the Wyndham Costa del Sol Lima Airport Hotel. (B,L)

DAY 10: LIMA/U.S.

After breakfast, transfer to the airport for your flight home. (B)
