PRISTINE COASTLINE, ISLES OF SELDOM-SEEN WILDLIFE, AND A PANOPLY OF SEA LIFE

probably aren't the first things that pop into most people's minds when they hear about Baja. Overshadowed by the well-known nightlife of Cabo San Lucas, it is a region of untamed wildness hiding in plain sight. Wildness surrounds us as our ships ply the rich waters of the Sea of Cortez and the whale nursery bays of the Pacific. Almost inconceivably, the region is home to over a third of all marine mammal species in the world.

An underwater photograph showing several whales swimming in clear, deep blue water. The whales are seen from below, with sunlight filtering through the water, creating a serene and majestic scene. The whales' dark bodies contrast with the bright blue water, and their long, sleek forms are clearly visible.

DISCOVER THE POWER AND PURITY OF WILDNESS IN BAJA

IN THE SEA OF CORTEZ MASSIVE PODS OF LEAPING

dolphins roil the sea's surface in a spectacle of biomass. Mobula rays swirl just beneath our Zodiacs, launching themselves into the air in a dazzling display. As we don snorkeling gear and climb into the water, sea lions leap off rocks to perform undersea acrobatics around us. Making landfall on desert isles, we hike through forests of giant cacti on sun-drenched hillsides and venture into desert arroyos that hold water long after storms, giving way to rivers of desert blossoms. Visit island sanctuaries for breeding seabirds covered with nests, filled with a symphony of bird calls so loud your naturalist needs to shout to be heard. On the Pacific side of the peninsula hike, leap, and slide down wind- and wave-sculpted dunes that stretch along the coast. And be among the privileged few to enter the birthing lagoons of the California gray whales for life-affirming close encounters with gentle mothers and curious calves.

“This morning we awoke just north of the islands of Los Islotes. Among the rocks that jut out from the water, we find the local cabal of California sea lions, brown pelicans, blue-footed boobies, various cormorants, and even peregrine falcons. At Isla San Francisco, we went hiking, kayaking, stand-up paddleboarding, snorkeling, and swimming off this beautiful island. As the sun set, we prepped for a Baja-style BBQ on the beach. Faces alight from the orange and red glow off the horizon, we ate, drank, and laughed about what will remain an unforgettable journey in an unforgettable land.”

THE PERFECT MOBILE BASE CAMP FOR EXPLORING

WITH OPEN DECKS THAT TAKE FULL ADVANTAGE OF THE SUN AND ocean breezes, and create front row seats on the remarkable spectacle of marine life in Baja, our nimble expedition ships are uniquely suited to make the most of being in this remote, soul-satisfying geography. All are equipped with fleets of Zodiacs, kayaks, and stand-up paddleboards to explore the desert island shores and beneath the calm sea, vivid with life. The 50-cabin National Geographic Venture is outfitted with the amenities and ability to cover great distances—reflected in their farther-ranging itineraries—while still using its small scale to sail among the islands and channels where we've been finding whales for nearly 40 years. And the 31-cabin National Geographic Sea Bird offers an immediacy and intimacy with the landscapes—reflected in the Baja itineraries for which she is perfectly adapted. She is the only expedition ship operating in Baja small enough to slip past the shifting sandbars and anchor inside Magdalena Bay, a nursery for gray whale mothers and calves, to give those aboard the experience of waking up and drifting off to sleep to the sounds of nearby gray whales.

SEE YOUR KIDS BECOME NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC GLOBAL EXPLORERS

WHETHER IT'S GETTING WITHIN ARM'S REACH OF WILD

gray whales or exploring secluded coves and inlets by kayak, shared activities in Baja's wild and exciting environment can bring a family together. And now that our National Geographic Global Explorers program is launching in Baja, there's no better way for families to explore the region. Our program for kids and teens is the only program of its kind in Baja, giving families a unique way to explore and connect with each other and the natural world. Developed in conjunction with National Geographic Education, it's designed to help kids and teens under 18 develop the attitudes, skills, and knowledge of an explorer. They're invited to engage in a variety of cool activities, guided by a National Geographic certified field educator, and can collect 'points' on their way to become a National Geographic Global Explorer—with the certification to prove it! Guests under 18 (and their families) will:

- ✓ Develop their observation skills by watching out for specific wildlife, and recording observations in their Field Notebook
- ✓ Have fun with cool activities like earning their Zodiac driving 'license'
- ✓ Connect with nature through direct contact with wildlife above and below the sea
- ✓ Use their creativity to become good storytellers—with photos, videos, music, writing, drawing, and more—to communicate all they'll see and do
- ✓ Participate in all or some of the activities based on their interests, and still have plenty of time to share a family adventure

Our exclusive program for families is the only one of its kind in Baja travel. Families discover a unique way to explore and connect with each other and the natural world. And kids engage in a variety of cool optional activities, guided by a National Geographic certified field educator. # THE PACIFIC COAST THROUGH AN EXPLORER'S LENS

WATCH THE METROPOLIS OF L.A. FADE AWAY AS YOU SAIL

south on National Geographic Venture, one of the newest ships in our fleet, on an expedition into the origins of California and the nation. Venture first to the Channel Islands, a gem of the National Parks system, to hike a river of pine cones to one of only two groves of Torrey Pines on Earth. Sail into the Baja Peninsula's wine region, with some areas originally planted by the Spanish in the 16th century. In the Guadalupe Valley, grapes grow in the arid climate with thick skins, producing a deep color and full-bodied, robust taste you'll sample over lunch at a private vineyard. See other evidence of Spanish colonialism while strolling cobblestone streets to plazas laid out centuries ago.

While the cultural experiences are deeply rewarding, the region's spectacular nature is the main draw. Explore the desert and islands lush with amazingly adapted plants and creatures—setting foot on the shores is akin to a walk in the “land of the lost.” Searching among the 20 whale species known to cruise these waters including humpbacks and huge blues, our flexible itinerary allows us to “brake” for whales and to spend time among these gentle cetaceans. In Cabo Pulmo, you'll don snorkeling gear to explore the thriving life on the only hard coral reef in North America—a brilliant example of marine conservation. Last season, our visit to the Vizcaino Biosphere Reserve, with its world-renowned fishing cooperatives and resident elephant seals was a surprise highlight.

Enjoy daily morning stretch classes on deck and wellness treatments in National Geographic Venture's spa, too. Count on an extraordinary experience—your entire expedition team is committed to doing whatever it takes.

DAY 1: U.S./LORETO, MEXICO/ EMBARK

Arrive in Loreto and embark our ship. (D)

DAYS 2–7: EXPLORING THE SEA OF CORTEZ

Our routing is designed with flexibility in mind, to maximize opportunities for wildlife sightings. It will most likely include the islands and activities listed below, although the order may vary. (B,L,D)

ISLAS SAN ESTEBAN AND SAN PEDRO MÁRTIR:

Walk up a desert wash, to search for desert songbirds such as the handsome black-throated sparrow, listen for the cascading song of the canyon wren and search for the endemic pinto chuckwalla—a plump, harmless desert lizard. Later visit Isla San Pedro Mártir, a 1,000-foot-high guano-covered island that is home to thousands of seabirds: brown pelicans, magnificent frigatebirds, Brandt’s cormorants; and California sea lions.

ISLA SAN MARCOS:

At Isla San Marcos, there is a beautiful shoreline for swimming, snorkeling, and kayaking. In the afternoon, we are again in rich waters. We are on the lookout for pods of dolphins—with common and bottlenose being the most frequently encountered species. With luck they will join us as we go, riding the bow wave and sometimes leaping from the water.

ISLA SAN JOSÉ:

One of the larger islands in the Sea of Cortez, San José, offers several landing possibilities depending on conditions and the whim of the moment. Photograph the ochre cliffs of the island’s eastern shore, hike an “enchanted,” cactus-laden arroyo, or visit the abandoned salt works to the west.

Kayaking, Isla San Marcos.

BAHÍA LORETO MARINE PARK:

This morning we’ll search the waters south of Isla Carmen for fin whales, which researchers have recently concluded may be a resident population. Bottlenose and common dolphins are frequently encountered. Later we visit an island of Bahía Loreto Marine Park, with ample time for kayaking, snorkeling, stand-up paddleboarding, and possibly hiking. In the evening, enjoy a beach barbecue under the desert sky.

ISLAS LOS ISLOTES AND SAN FRANCISCO:

At Los Islotes, don flippers, a mask and snorkel and swim with curious sea lions. We have a leisurely afternoon to swim, kayak, or hike at Isla San Francisco. Look skyward for yellow-footed gulls, brown pelicans, and blue-footed boobies.

DAY 8: LORETO/DISEMBARK/U.S.

Disembark and explore Loreto, where we will have the opportunity to visit the first mission in Baja California, as well as the nearby museum to learn more about what makes this town so special. ## DAY 1: U.S./LORETO, MEXICO/ SAN CARLOS/EMBARK

Upon arrival in Loreto, transfer to San Carlos and embark our ship. (D)

DAY 2: BAHÍA MAGDALENA

Explore the ever-shifting sand dunes of Isla Magdalena, on a cross-island walk to one of the most pristine beaches in the Pacific. Bird-watching in this area can be excellent. We may observe pelicans and cormorants skimming the waters of the bay, or terns wheeling and darting as frigatebirds ride the thermals above, looking for an easy meal. Along the beaches, resident great blue herons feed on these fertile shorelines next to migratory shorebirds, including whimbrels and willets, as they refuel for their northbound journeys. (B,L,D)

Gray whale, Laguna San Ignacio.

DAYS 3 & 4: LAGUNA SAN IGNACIO

Laguna San Ignacio is a large bay and favored haunt of the gray whales in Baja. The ship will anchor at the mouth of this remote and important locale, while we observe the mother and calf pairs in local pangas. For some reason, the whales here seem to be friendlier than they are elsewhere. It's not unusual for mothers and calves to approach our boats, the calves often playing hide and seek—sometimes even welcoming a touch or a friendly chin scratch. (B,L,D)

DAY 5: AT SEA

As we travel south along the Pacific coast of the peninsula, there is a chance of seeing a wide variety of marine life. (B,L,D)

DAYS 6–14: ISLANDS OF THE SEA OF CORTEZ

Cruise past the spectacular Friars Rocks at Land's End. For those who wish, we will arrange a visit to the historic town center of San José del Cabo. Isla San Pedro Mártir, Los Islotes, Isla San Francisco—these are some of the melodious names of islands scattered throughout this beautiful sea. After over 40 years of exploration here, we are still discovering new places and experiencing exciting events: bow-riding bottlenose dolphins, or sperm whales near our ship; a pod of fin whales feeding around a convergence zone; or perhaps, with luck, the largest animal on earth—the blue whale. The best areas for whale watching remain consistent—the waters south of Isla Carmen, Canal de Ballenas up north, and near the mouth of Bahía Concepción. Whether on the Bridge of the ship, in Zodiacs, or kayaks, we will be in prime position to observe them all. (B,L,D)

DAY 15: LORETO/DISEMBARK/U.S.

WHALES, BEACHES, YOGA,
HIKES & SERENITY

THE TWO ESCAPES FEATURED HERE OFFER YOU THE BEST of Baja in a convenient five- or four-night timeframe. Is getting up close with the local wildlife your main priority? Simply choose the Escape to Magdalena Bay, aboard National Geographic Sea Bird, perfectly sized to enter and anchor in the Bay's protected waters, placing us among the gray whale mothers and calves drawn to the calm nursery lagoons. Curious, playful, and friendly, they often approach the small Zodiacs we deploy for close-up views and mutual curiosity. At night you can stand on deck under stars and hear the whales breathing around the ship. By day, watch diving pelicans and ospreys, and marvel at the major air dolphins catch as they leap from the water. Plus there are sand dunes to wander, stretches of beach to bike, mangroves to kayak, and many species of birds to spot and add to your life list.

Interested in wellness? Our Serenity Escape aboard National Geographic Venture is ideal. Enjoy sunrise yoga on deck and a host of outdoor activities in and among idyllic desert isles in the Sea of Cortez. Choose beach yoga or Boot Camp. Go paddleboarding or kayaking. Geek out on a trail walk with a naturalist, or hike high up for an exhilarating panorama of the Sea of Cortez. And while you're there, you can easily add a rare experience to your "Been there, done that" list—swimming with whale sharks, the world's largest fish.

Choose either Escape and save 10% when you travel with a group of six or more. Make a milestone birthday or anniversary extra special by celebrating in pure wildness in a place not too far from home.

This is no ordinary whalewatching experience: we'll literally anchor among the gray whales in Bahía Magdalena, where mothers and calves relax after the longest mammal migration on Earth. We'll see and hear them around the ship, and venture out in expedition landing craft for exhilarating up-close encounters. We'll visit multiple sites in the 70-mile-long bay to maximize our opportunities for interactions. While whales may be the highlight, this area is home to so much more. Explore the mangroves by kayak. Fat-tire bike along remote beaches (we've got a fleet of bikes aboard). Beachcomb endless crescents of sand, studded with thousands of sand dollars. And revel in the vastness and serenity as you view the many species of birds in this world-renowned region.

DAY 1: U.S./LORETO, MEXICO/ SAN CARLOS/EMBARK

Upon arrival in Loreto, transfer to San Carlos and embark National Geographic Sea Bird. Tonight we'll anchor off the coast of Isla Santa Margarita. (D)

DAY 2: BAHÍA ALMEJAS/REHUSA CHANNEL/ISLA MAGDALENA

Awake in Bahía Almejas, the southernmost part of the Bay. We'll make a special stop to view a large frigatebird colony on Isla Santa Margarita before heading out on our first whale watching trip of the voyage. The whales in Bahía Almejas tend to be very active, seemingly oblivious to our presence. As we explore this bay and the Rehusa Channel via local panga, our team will do whatever it takes to provide you with memorable and meaningful experiences. During lunch, we'll sail toward Isla Magdalena to explore the ever-shifting sand dunes on a cross-island walk to one of the most pristine beaches in the Pacific. Take a dip or tally the treasure found on what we affectionately call "sand dollar beach." (B,L,D)

DAY 3: TRANSIT THE HULL CANAL/ BOCA DE SOLEDAD

Spend the morning transiting the scenic, winding Hull Canal. Within its narrow channels, bordered by mangroves and sand dunes, and filled with abundant wildlife, we'll hang out on deck with our keen-eyed naturalists to spot species and hear expert commentary. Weather permitting, we'll explore the vast mangrove system via kayak and expedition landing craft. Bird-watching here can be excellent. Among the species we might see are diving pelicans, wheeling cormorants, terns, great blue herons, ibis, whimbrels, and willets. It's not unusual to see 40 species of birds in just one day along these fertile shorelines. This afternoon, we'll head out to explore the breeding grounds of Boca de Soledad. (B,L,D)

Treasures from "sand dollar beach."

DAYS 4 & 5: BOCA DE SOLEDAD

Each winter, during their long migration, gray whales travel south from their Arctic feeding grounds to breed and give birth to their calves in these sheltered waters. "Grand Central" for California gray whales, we'll spend two full days observing, and with luck, interacting with these majestic creatures. Together with savvy local fishermen we've known for years, we'll venture out in Zodiacs to view the numerous mother-calf pairs that thrive in this region. We'll also have an opportunity to explore the beaches, and if you're feeling up to it, grab one of our fat-tire bikes to roam the seemingly endless beaches. (B,L,D)

DAY 6: SAN CARLOS/DISEMBARK/ LORETO/U.S.

After breakfast, disembark our ship and transfer to Loreto's city center. Choose to visit the first mission in Baja California, as well as the nearby museum to learn more about what makes this town so special. Enjoy free time to explore the quaint shops and vibrant side streets. After lunch, transfer to Loreto Airport for flights home. (B,L)
