HOLIDAY ABOARD
CALM & BRIGHT

NEW TASTES &
NEW TRANSPORTS

PLUS EXCLUSIVE
AIR OFFER

DEAR TRAVELER,

When I travel with our guests on other Lindblad-National Geographic voyages, and they learn I'm an expedition leader on our Mekong River expedition, they invariably ask me if they'll "meet local people." I'm always surprised by the question, because unequivocally, our Mekong expedition is a total and complete immersion in the Vietnamese and Cambodian cultures of the Mekong River—and encounters with people.

The officers and crew of the Jahan are all Vietnamese and Cambodian, and take great pride in showing us their homelands. Our guides are from the areas we visit; they have personally scouted out and established relationships with the families, villages, and local markets—enabling the authentic experiences that set us apart from other travel companies on the Mekong. In addition to facilitating interaction and interpretation, our guides ensure that these relationships are beneficial to the locals, as well as engaging and memorable for us. Even our ship, the beautiful designed Jahan is a cultural experience. And to add to the gracious hospitality, your bar tab and crew tips are included in the voyage price, with our compliments.

Our Captain's river navigation skill is a voyage hallmark

I can't emphasize enough how rewarding it is for me personally to work with Captain Quy, and how vital he is to our guests' experience. Captain Quy completely understands the Mekong experience we seek to provide—to photographers and river-watchers alike. We consistently cruise the river during the golden hours of sunrise and sunset, when the lighting is magical and life along the riverbanks is most active. The Captain navigates toward one bank or the other, and always gives me sufficient notice of upcoming dramatic sights and turns, so I can ensure you'll never miss an exceptional moment.

And the interpretation aboard is superb

The geopolitical history of Cambodia and Vietnam is fascinating, complex, and often quite misunderstood by Westerners. One cannot understand the Khmer Rouge tragedy, the Vietnam War, or even the influence of China today, without putting it in the context of French Indochina and the role of the West since the early 19th century. This is an underpinning theme of the entire expedition, reaching its climax with a keynote lecture and on-board Q & A by Royal University of Phnom Penh professor Dr. Jean-Michel Filippi. His unbounded knowledge and irrepressible enthusiasm for clarification and understanding make the morning with Dr. Filippi a highlight of every voyage.

If I had to encapsulate in one word what most sets the Lindblad-National Geographic experience apart from others on the Mekong, it's authenticity. The authenticity of the interactions and experiences, on board the ship, on the river, in the towns and villages and with our guides is the exhilarating discovery I promise you'll make.

Perhaps the most affecting aspect for me, and for many of our guests is the gratitude that every member of Jahan's crew expresses for the interest of our guests. Many of the crew members come from towns and villages along the river, and places that we visit on our journey, and they are delighted by our interest in the way they live, their philosophies, and beliefs. It has made them incredibly proud of themselves, and they communicate that pride to their friends and families. It's very moving when they say, as they often do upon farewell, "Thank you for doing everything you do to support our homeland."

There are few cultural experiences along the Mekong that are this in-depth, meaningful, and rewarding. I sincerely hope you'll choose to join us.

On behalf of the entire Jahan team, we look forward to sharing the Mekong with you.

Sincerely,

Tom O'Brien
Expedition Leader

A RIVER ROUTE THROUGH HISTORY & TWO CULTURES

Rivers are the heart and soul of countries and cultures, a pulsating lifeline. And no river teems with more life than the mighty Mekong, which winds its way through the lush lowlands of Cambodia and Vietnam. Our dual-natured, in-depth land and river exploration takes us from the heart of Cambodia's 9th-century Khmer empire, at Angkor, to Vietnam's most storied city, Saigon. We'll largely travel along the Mekong—with our riverboat, Jahan, providing an all-five-senses-engaged front-row seat.

THE MAGIC OF ANGKOR

An undeniable highlight of the itinerary is the vast complex of Angkor. With our expert guides we'll explore Angkor Wat, the world's largest religious monument, and Angkor Thom, where the Bayon temple's towers reveal hundreds of stone faces, gazing at us across the centuries. We'll also see Ta Prohm, where the jungle is slowly reclaiming the temple and the exquisite carvings at the temple of Banteay Srei.

Main image: Guest photographing Angkor Wat during sunrise.

WHERE THE MEKONG & ANGKOR MEET

The seasonal cycles of the mighty Mekong’s lower reaches sustain a life along the riverbanks that’s astonishingly unchanged from the great Angkor empires of a millennium ago. Indeed, so much of the fascinating and photogenic fishing and cooking techniques, rice cultivation, stilt houses, and floating villages, even the beasts of burden that we encounter on our voyages today, are depicted exactly in the sandstone reliefs of the incomparable 800-year-old Angkor Temples.

LIVE LIKE A LOCAL

EXCITING WAYS TO GET AROUND

Cyclo. Longboat. Oxcart. And, of course, tuk-tuk. These are all indigenous forms of transportation that you can enjoy during unforgettable daytrips from Jahan. Travel through rice paddies and lotus lily farms using a traditional two-wheeled oxcart, a bouncy but exhilarating ride. You might then jump into a tuk-tuk—a three-wheeled, motorized rickshaw—and zip through the countryside to visit a local temple or a school supported by Lindblad-National Geographic guests, where the friendly students will greet you. Wend your way through Phnom Penh's traffic relaxing on a cyclo, a bicycle that pulls a two-seater car behind it, as you view the French Colonial Post Office, the U.S. Embassy and the art deco Central Market, before ending with a tour of the Royal Palace. And to explore waterways too small for Jahan to navigate, you can board a longboat to immerse yourself in the local culture. Visit floating villages and take in the homes, shops, produce markets, and fish farms—all with an up-close view of this fascinating way of life on the water.

A REAL TASTE OF VIETNAM AND CAMBODIA

Although the two countries are neighbors and their foods share many elements, the cooking in each country is distinctive. Whether it's aboard Jahan, at fine city restaurants or our private dinners, eating local food on this journey is always a rewarding part of your experience. And you'll always have a choice of continental foods, as well. The result: You'll look forward to mealtimes and the extraordinary culinary opportunities this region has to offer—and perhaps return home with new recipes and skills gleaned from our visits to local markets and on-board cooking class.

EXCLUSIVELY YOURS, WITH MEANING & MAGIC

A PRIVATE DINNER AT TEMPLE PRASAT KRAVAN, ANGKOR

It's an experience so evocative that many guests have told us it was the highlight of their voyage. The incomparable setting uses gentle illumination to conjure the temple's mystery and magic, as costumed dancers, looking like the celestial dancers adorning the walls of Angkor's temples, perform classic music and dance for us as they have for dynasties of Khmer kings and queens.

DINNER AT HENRY CABOT LODGE'S RESIDENCE, SAIGON

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. was a U.S. senator, vice presidential candidate and U.N. ambassador who was asked by both Presidents Kennedy and Johnson to be U.S. ambassador to Vietnam. Enjoy a private dinner in his former home, beautifully restored and featuring much of the original artwork, photographs and furniture.

AN INSPIRING INTERACTION— THE KAMPONG TRALACH LOCAL SCHOOL PROJECT

What could be better than connecting with enthusiastic children who are bettering their own lives—and the lives of their families? For years Lindblad-National Geographic guests have supported extracurricular education in the village of Kampong Tralach, funding local schools that provide English language instruction and a place for local children to share their growth through storytelling. A journey from Jahan via oxcarts takes you through the rice paddies to a school where you will be welcomed by the students, who will be starting their day with the Khmer flag-raising ceremony. You can even follow the students into their classrooms to personally experience education in rural Cambodia. Our guests feel most warmly welcomed into this vibrant community.

Travel Protection Plan: We strongly recommend that you take advantage of our Travel Protection Plan. This plan offers comprehensive coverage to protect you from cancellation fees, costs incurred due to trip delays/interruption, medical assistance, and damaged or lost baggage, and provides medical assistance and evacuation during your travels. Our Travel Protection Plan is available for U.S. and Canadian residents only, and may be purchased any time prior to final payment due date. Travel Protection premiums are non-refundable once plan is purchased.

Responsibility and Other Terms & Conditions: Certain provisions concerning, among other things, limitations of Lindblad Expeditions' and the National Geographic Society's liability for loss of property, injury, illness or death during the voyage will be provided to all guests on the ship's ticket sent prior to departure, and are also available on our website at www.expeditions.com/terms, or upon request. By registering for a trip, the guest agrees to all such terms and conditions.

Note: Itineraries and prices listed in this brochure are valid as of publication date, and are subject to change. Under normal conditions, the total expedition cost is guaranteed at the time of booking. However, the published price is determined far in advance of initial departure on the basis of then-existing projections of fuel and other costs. In the event we determine that current costs create an unsustainable financial model, including but not limited to increases in the price of fuel, currency fluctuations, increases in government taxes or levies, or increased security costs, we reserve the right to pass on these costs to you, to cover such unexpected increases. We will always provide a transparent accounting of the reason for such an increase in costs.

Cancellation Policy: Cancellation penalties may apply after payment is received. Please visit www.expeditions.com/terms for complete cancellation policies.

Final Payment: Final payment is due 90 days prior to departure. Payment schedules may vary for Holiday departures and certain longer voyages, due to high demand for these voyages. We reserve the right to cancel your reservation if payment has not been received by final payment due date.
