ALONG THE MEKONG RIVER, INCLUDING ANGKOR AND SAIGON
2023 VOYAGES | EXPEDITIONS.COM

DEAR TRAVELER,

When I travel with our guests on other Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic voyages, and they learn I'm an expedition leader on our Mekong River expedition, they invariably ask me if they'll "meet local people." I'm always surprised by the question, because unequivocally, our Mekong expedition is a total and complete immersion in the Vietnamese and Cambodian cultures of the Mekong River—and encounters with people.

The officers and crew of The Jahan are all Vietnamese and Cambodian, and take great pride in showing us their homelands. Our guides are from the areas we visit; they have personally scouted out and established relationships with the families, villages, and local markets—enabling the authentic experiences that set us apart from other travel companies on the Mekong. In addition to facilitating interaction and interpretation, our guides ensure that these relationships are beneficial to the locals, as well as engaging and memorable for us. Even our ship, the beautiful designed The Jahan is a cultural experience. And to add to the gracious hospitality, your bar tab and crew tips are included in the voyage price, with our compliments.

If I had to encapsulate in one word what most sets the Lindblad-National Geographic experience apart from others on the Mekong, it's authenticity. The authenticity of the interactions and experiences, on board the ship, on the river, in the towns and villages and with our guides is the exhilarating discovery I promise you'll make.

There are few cultural experiences along the Mekong that are this in-depth, meaningful, and rewarding. I sincerely hope you'll choose to join us.

On behalf of the entire The Jahan team, we look forward to sharing the Mekong with you.

Our Captain's river navigation skill is a voyage hallmark

I can't emphasize enough how rewarding it is for me personally to work with The Jahan captains, in particular Captain Quy, and how vital he is to our guests' experience. Captain Quy completely understands the Mekong experience we seek to provide—to photographers and river-watchers alike. We consistently cruise the river during the golden hours of sunrise and sunset, when the lighting is magical and life along the riverbanks is most active. The Captain navigates toward one bank or the other, and always gives me sufficient notice of upcoming dramatic sights and turns, so I can ensure you'll never miss an exceptional moment.

And the interpretation aboard is superb

The geopolitical history of Cambodia and Vietnam is fascinating, complex, and often quite misunderstood by Westerners. One cannot understand the Khmer Rouge tragedy, the Vietnam War, or even the influence of China today, without putting it in the context of French Indochina and the role of the West since the early 19th century. This is an underpinning theme of the entire expedition, reaching its climax with a keynote lecture and on-board Q & A by author and Royal University of Phnom Penh professor Dr. Jean-Michel Filippi. His unbounded knowledge and irrepressible enthusiasm for clarification and understanding make this lecture a highlight of every voyage.

Sincerely,

A river route through history and two cultures

Rivers are the heart and soul of countries and cultures, a pulsating lifeline. And no river teems with more life than the mighty Mekong, which winds its way through the lush lowlands of Cambodia and Vietnam. Our dual-natured, in-depth land and river exploration takes us from the heart of Cambodia's 9th-century Khmer empire, at Angkor, to Vietnam's most storied and modern city, Saigon. Get an all-five-senses-engaged front-row seat for travel along the Mekong on our privately chartered riverboat The Jahan.

THE MAGIC OF ANGKOR

An undeniable highlight of the itinerary is the vast complex of Angkor. Rise early to watch the sunrise over Angkor Wat with our Lindblad-National Geographic certified photo instructor and spend two days with our expert guides exploring the world's largest religious monument. Walk through Angkor Thom, where the Bayon temple's towers reveal hundreds of stone faces, gazing at us across the centuries. We'll also see Ta Prohm, where the jungle is slowly reclaiming the temple and the exquisite carvings at the temple of Banteay Srei.

Young monks at Angkor Wat, Cambodia.

WHERE THE MEKONG & ANGKOR MEET

The seasonal cycles of the mighty Mekong's lower reaches sustain a life along the riverbanks that's astonishingly unchanged from the great Angkor empires of a millennium ago. Indeed, so much of the fascinating and photogenic fishing and cooking techniques, rice cultivation, stilt houses, and floating villages, even the beasts of burden that we encounter on our voyages today are depicted exactly in the sandstone reliefs of the incomparable 800-year-old Angkor Temples.

Live like a local

EXCITING WAYS TO GET AROUND

Cyclo. Longboat. Oxcart. And, of course, tuk-tuk. These are all indigenous forms of transportation that you can enjoy during unforgettable daytrips from The Jahan.

Travel through rice paddies and lotus lily farms using a traditional two-wheeled oxcart—a bouncy but exhilarating ride. Or, jump into a tuk-tuk—a three-wheeled, motorized rickshaw—and zip through the countryside to visit a local temple or a school supported by Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic guests, where the friendly students will greet you. Wend your way through Phnom Penh’s traffic relaxing on a cyclo, a bicycle that pulls a two-seater car behind it, as you view the French Colonial Post Office, the U.S. Embassy and the art deco Central Market, before ending with a tour of the Royal Palace.

To explore waterways too small for The Jahan to navigate, you can board a longboat to visit floating villages and take in the homes, shops, produce markets, and fish farms—for an up-close view of this fascinating way of life on the water.

A REAL TASTE OF VIETNAM AND CAMBODIA

Although the two countries are neighbors and their foods share many elements, the cooking in each country is distinctive. Whether it's aboard The Jahan, at fine city restaurants or our private dinners, eating local food on this journey is always a rewarding part of your experience. You'll have a choice of continental foods, as well. The result: You'll look forward to mealtimes and the extraordinary culinary opportunities this region has to offer—and perhaps return home with new recipes and skills gleaned from our visits to local markets and on-board cooking class.

Immersive Cultural Experiences

A PRIVATE DINNER AT A STUNNING ANGKOR TEMPLE

It's an experience so evocative that many guests have told us it was the highlight of their voyage. Gentle illumination conjures the temple's mystery and magic as dancers, looking like the celestial dancers adorning the walls of Angkor's temples, perform for us as they have for dynasties of Khmer kings and queens.

Traditional dancers at a private dinner at an illuminated Angkor temple.

Brightly colored water puppet dolls.

ENJOY AN ENCHANTING PERFORMANCE

Vietnamese water puppetry is the traditional folk art of making wooden, lacquered puppets dance on water. The tradition stretches back 4,000 years, when farmers, waist-deep in flooded rice paddies, manipulated the dolls to entertain themselves and villagers, depicting stories of fishing, harvesting, and village folklore. Today, you can see these ancient stories come alive on pools framed by ornate stages and carefully designed sets—complete with a Vietnamese orchestra of flutes, bells, cymbals, and single-stringed guitar, with deft puppeteers hidden behind bamboo curtains.

AN INSPIRING INTERACTION— THE KAMPONG TRALACH LOCAL SCHOOL PROJECT

What could be better than connecting with enthusiastic children who are bettering their own lives—and the lives of their families? For years Lindblad-National Geographic guests have supported extracurricular education in the village of Kampong Tralach, funding local schools that provide English language instruction and a place for local children to share their growth through storytelling. A journey from The Jahan via oxcarts takes you through the rice paddies to a school where you will be welcomed by the students, who will be starting their day with the Khmer flag-raising ceremony. You can even follow the students into their classrooms to personally experience education in rural Cambodia.

Guests interact with students.

Superb accommodations on land and on the river

THE JAHAN

The 48-guest The Jahan is an artistic masterpiece, handcrafted with hand-painted walls and ceilings, inlaid and hand-carved woodwork, and a decorative treasure of irreplaceable antiques collected from East India and Sri Lanka. The ship's deluxe accommodations include 24 spacious cabins, two of which are suites. All are configured with queen or twin-sized beds, and glass door private balconies for enjoying the timeless views of life along the Mekong.
