GEOGRAPHIC™

DEAR TRAVELER,

Like so many people who lived through the 1950s, '60s and the years since, I have been keenly aware of Cuba and its outsize influence on the world for most of my life. So when in 2014 I was able to travel there for the first time, I jumped at the chance.

That journey was an eye-opener. We met with key leaders and Cubans from all walks of life, and learned just how extraordinary both the cultures and natural history of Cuba are. I loved the experience, which included the best snorkeling and diving I have ever experienced in the Caribbean—Cubans have taken great care to protect their natural resources.

I returned last year with the intention of creating something unique for our guests, beyond the normal experiences offered today. I was looking to combine culture, history and nature, to introduce our guests to Cubans who are making a difference, and to make the experience both educational and exhilarating.

I believe we succeeded in doing just that, as I hope you'll see when you read about our unique land and sea program in the pages that follow. The combination of three nights in Havana with seven nights along Cuba's southern coast aboard the Harmony V will show you many of Cuba's facets, and will let you learn from Cubans about their country.

Cuba is on the cusp of great change. Its people—among the friendliest you'll ever encounter—are eager for more economic opportunity. They are resilient and creative, and possess heart and determination in abundance. And the network of friends we've made there will help inform your experience. During our inaugural 2016-17 season, our guests had one exceptional people-to-people experience after another and learned so much about Cuba—as I believe you will as well, if you join us.

If you do, bring along a sense of humor, patience, and a good dose of curiosity. A key purpose of travel is to see places different from our own, and Cuba certainly qualifies in that regard. I believe your journey there will be inspiring, great fun, and certainly hugely memorable.

All the best,

Sven-Olof Lindblad

HAVANA

Favored with a gorgeous seaside setting on the Straits of Florida, Havana has evolved from a strategically positioned outpost into one of the world's most vital cities.

It's a place where Cuba's colorful character expresses itself—in passionate discussion and in the enjoyment of family and friends. Where people mingle on the seafront promenade, the Malecón; where crowds gather at Wi-Fi hot spots to email overseas family members; and where people stay up all hours of the night to hear music and socialize.

We've crafted a people-to-people program like no other, with a rich variety of choices so that you can do the things that most interest you. Here are a few of the many ways to discover Cuba on your own.

The historic Capitolio, modeled after the U.S. Capitol, and vintage American cars.

Jose Fuster's public art covers the neighborhood of Jaimanitas in Havana.

EXPLORE THE WORLD HERITAGE SITE OF OLD HAVANA, with brilliant architecture, and where seemingly every building has a story to tell. Meet and talk with Cubans who are working to revitalize its neighborhoods.

MEET AND INTERACT WITH ARTISTS working in a variety of media, on scales from small to grand. The arts are greatly valued in Cuba, and the work of Havana's artists is profoundly affecting. You can visit the Museum of Fine Arts, with an extraordinary collection of works by Cubans.

VISIT A WORKSHOP owned by a Cuban entrepreneur, where vintage American cars are lovingly restored. He will explain the challenges of Cuba's emerging private sector. His ingenuity in securing and making parts is quintessentially Cuban.

EXPLORE ERNEST HEMINGWAY'S ESTATE, see his house and his beloved boat Pilar, and visit some of his various haunts where you will meet local Cubans.

MEET AND DISCUSS CUBAN MEDIA WITH PIONEERING INDEPENDENT CUBAN JOURNALISTS who report on all aspects of Cuban current affairs, life, and culture.

LEARN HOW THE CUBAN REVOLUTION UNFOLDED at the Museum of the Revolution.

THE HOTEL NACIONAL

Staying at the Hotel Nacional is like living a part of Cuban history. Since the hotel opened in 1930, it has been home to a Who's Who of heads of state, film stars, entertainers, and athletes, along with some notorious guests...including Winston Churchill, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, Fred Astaire, Frank Sinatra, Walt Disney, Mickey Mantle, Lucky Luciano, and many, many more. Another part of its history is reflected in the tunnels that were constructed in the gardens during the Cuban Missile Crisis. Its architecture inspired by The Breakers in Palm Beach, the hotel enjoys a splendid location overlooking the Straits of Florida.

LA MÚSICA CUBANA

In Cuba, nearly every child plays a musical instrument or sings. The level of talent is astonishing—as the ageless worldwide renown of Cuban music proves. Learning about the music and the artists who make it is one of the exclusive features of our program. Anticipate experiences like these:

IN HAVANA, a private meeting with and performance by the renowned Grammy-nominated band Septeto Nacional. Now in its fourth generation, the band is among Cuba's leading exponents of the son style of music popularized by the Buena Vista Social Club.

IN CIENFUEGOS, enjoy an affecting performance by the well-traveled Cantores de Cienfuegos, an a cappella group whose repertory includes traditional Cuban songs plus a broad international cross-section of classical and popular melodies; hear a wonderful children's group perform Cucarachita Martina, a classic Cuban tale with a moral; and visit the Benny Moré School of Art to meet talented students who play classical music, Cuban melodies, as well as other styles.

IN TRINIDAD, enjoy a luncheon performance by an outstanding solo singer-guitarist.

ENJOY THE VARIETY of formidably talented street performers we'll see throughout our journey.

Clockwise from top: A private performance by Septeto Nacional just for our group; the rousing percussion and dance ensemble Habana Compás; a guitarist in Cienfuegos.

"I particularly enjoy the 'people to-people' element, which facilitates and gives access to all levels of Cuban culture and society. The profound and personal interactions make us realize how many misconceptions we have about each other, and that we are all ambassadors to and from our own countries in revitalizing this relationship. It's a joy to discover, understand, and foster awareness of Cuba's wonderfully warm, resilient and creative people."

—TOM O'BRIEN, EXPEDITION LEADER

CIENFUEGOS & TRINIDAD:

Our journey takes us to two of the most beautiful and historic colonial towns you'll ever encounter: Trinidad and Cienfuegos. Their historic centers are both World Heritage sites, for reasons you'll readily discover on your visits. Both have remarkable architecture and beautiful locations, Trinidad backed by the verdant Escambray Mountains, and Cienfuegos along a lovely bay of the Caribbean (said to have been explored by Columbus on his second voyage in 1494).

CUBA'S COLONIAL TOWNS

IN TRINIDAD:

VISIT THE OFFICE OF THE CITY HISTORIAN, and learn about Trinidad's design and history (it was founded in 1514 by Diego Velázquez).

SEE TRINIDAD'S EXQUISITE COLONIAL BUILDINGS, the campaniles for which it's famous, and the spectacular Plaza Mayor in the heart of this historic town, while learning about life there from local residents.

VISIT THE STUDIO OF A RENOWNED ARTIST who creates vivid likenesses in wood of the region's workers.

Wood carving.

CHOOSE TO GO INTO THE COUNTRYSIDE to the Valle de los Ingenios (Valley of the Sugar Mills), also a World Heritage site, where for centuries sugar was grown—the landowners living in opulence while slaves toiled.

IN CIENFUEGOS:

WALK THE PEDESTRIAN-ONLY MAIN STREET of this lively place, visiting shops and learning about what life is like for ordinary Cubans. Visit a ration shop and a market.

EXPLORE THE PLAZA MARTÍ, surrounded by fantastic buildings including the government palace and the ornate Teatro Tomás Terry, which still serves as a vital center for performances.

CHOOSE TO VISIT A VILLAGE in the countryside whose economy was based on sugar cane, and find out how residents are adapting to the changed economic climate.

ON OUR LAST DAY, ENJOY SUNSET DRINKS on a rooftop overlooking the historic center.

CUBA'S REMARKABLE NATURAL HISTORY

Cuba is rich in natural wonders, something that is often overlooked with all the attention paid to the island's cultures and human history. Dedicated Cubans have done a great deal to preserve and protect their natural areas, and it shows—there is an abundance of life, much of it unique to Cuba. In the company of knowledgeable Cubans, you'll be able to explore this wonderful facet of Cuba by land and sea.

JARDINES DE LA REINA (THE GARDENS OF THE QUEEN)

Be among the comparatively few to explore the Gardens of the Queen, considered the crown jewel of Caribbean reef systems, with marine life that ranks among the finest and most abundant in the Western Hemisphere.* You'll have chances to snorkel and to dive (qualified divers only, at additional cost) in these pristine waters. Water temperatures are typically ideal and visibility is usually excellent. You can walk on cays in the "Gardens" ecosystem, looking for birds, iguanas and shore creatures, and you'll meet with people working to preserve this habitat.

**Please note: our visit to Jardines de la Reina is pending permission from Cuban officials. In the event we are unable to get permission, we will instead explore the culture of seldom-visited Isla de la Juventud.*

*A large school of horse-eye jacks
in Jardines de la Reina.*

“He looked at me with fiercely observant eyes. Forty feet under the warm ocean near his private island, Fidel Castro was measuring my aquatic ability. The 64-year-old free-diver was at the height of his political power. He adjusted his face mask, peered under a coral ledge and finned slowly up toward the sunlight. I had been his guest for a week. Three days in Havana. Four days on his tightly guarded island south of the mainland. Since my arrival in Cuba I had been haunted by questions. Who is this mysterious man? What could I learn from him? During our voyage together, I will describe my conversations about politics and the ocean with the revolutionary fighter and dictator who governed the Republic of Cuba from 1959 to 2008.”

—DR. JOE MACINNIS (FEB. 14 DEPARTURE)

TOPES DE COLLANTES

Near Trinidad, go for a Cuban-led walk at Topes de Collantes, in the green Escambray Mountains. In the 1960s, rebels based here fought the Castro government, but today the section we explore is a nature reserve reached by a ride in a Soviet-era truck!

CHOOSE TO GO BIRDWATCHING

Travel to the Ciénaga de Zapata National Park with informed Cubans who can tell you about the things you see. You’ll look for birds found only in Cuba, including the bee hummingbird (at under two inches long and weighing less than two grams, it’s the world’s smallest bird); the Cuban trogon (Cuba’s national bird, so designated because its colors are similar to those of the flag); and the colorful Cuban green woodpecker.

BAY OF PIGS

At the Bay of Pigs, choose to go diving (at additional cost) or snorkeling from shore. Not far away is a coral wall extremely rich in marine life.

Bee hummingbird.

CUBA BY LAND & SEA: CULTURAL HERITAGE & NATURAL WONDERS

11 DAYS/10 NIGHTS—ABOARD HARMONY V

PRICES FROM: $9,500 to $14,250 (See page 13 for complete prices.)

Experience Cuba as few have—on a special people-to-people journey that delves into its intriguing culture and seldom-seen, stunning wild places on a unique land-and-sea expedition. You'll discover a Cuba on the verge of change, where we're able to offer authentic exploration of the island's incredible natural history, while also building value for Cubans working to preserve these wild areas.

DAY 1: MIAMI/HAVANA

Meet at Miami International Airport for our morning flight to Havana. This afternoon, we'll visit a community project with colorful art. Check in to our historic hotel, the Hotel Nacional, a Havana landmark on the waterfront, where we stay three nights. We then ride in 1950s cars to our dinner at a local restaurant. (L,D)

DAYS 2 AND 3: HAVANA

There's a full program of people-to-people visits, where you may choose among programs that interest you most. Explore Old Havana—a World Heritage site, trove of historic architecture, and cultural center—on foot. Drive along the Malecón, the esplanade that runs along the waterfront. Meet with members of a Cuban percussion and dance group, and see a stirring performance. Get a perspective on Castro's revolution. Explore art spaces. See Ernest Hemingway's estate at Finca Vigía. Visit a cigar factory and an organic farm. See an auto workshop where classic cars are restored. Enjoy meals in some of Havana's best private restaurants. And one evening we will hear Cuba's celebrated musical rhythms at a private dinner, with the chance to meet the members of the renowned Grammy-nominated Septeto Nacional. (B,L,D)

DAY 4: HAVANA/CIENFUEGOS/ EMBARK

Have a final morning to explore Havana with people-to-people visits. Drive to the beautiful city of Cienfuegos, where we'll meet and hear a performance by a stirring choral group. Embark Harmony V, our home for the next seven nights, with a welcome dinner aboard ship. (B,L,D)

DAY 5: BAY OF PIGS

Drive to the Bay of Pigs, an ecologically important area that became known when the 1961 U.S.-backed invasion was defeated by Cuban forces. Visit the museum that recounts the battle's history, and meet with people who describe what transpired. Choose to explore, with Cubans, the area's renowned birdlife, including the world's smallest bird, the bee hummingbird. Another option is to swim, snorkel or dive (at additional cost) at the Bay of Pigs. Visit an artists' retreat with musicians, dancers, painters, and more. In the late afternoon, drive back to Cienfuegos. (B,L,D)

DAY 6: CAYO LARGO

This beautiful island has diverse marine ecosystems and a small local community. We visit the local clinic to discuss Cuba's medical system with doctors and nurses. Meet conservationists at a sea turtle breeding center and endangered species program, and explore the island's marine world by swimming or snorkeling with Cuban guides. (B,L,D)

DAY 7: TRINIDAD

A World Heritage site, Trinidad is splendidly preserved. Visit the City Historian's office and walk through the town, meeting residents including local artists. In the afternoon, see the Valley of the Sugar Mills, learning about sugar's importance here. Alternatively, spend the day with a local specialist exploring the Escambray Mountains, with a short hike and a chance to see Cuba's natural history, exploring Trinidad in the afternoon and meeting its residents. (B,L,D)

DAYS 8 AND 9: JARDINES DE LA REINA NATIONAL PARK*

Jardines de la Reina (Gardens of the Queen) is a crown jewel of the Caribbean. We'll have all day Wednesday and Thursday morning to learn about this unique habitat, meeting with ecologists who are working to describe and preserve it. You'll have chances to snorkel and (at additional cost) dive with Cuban specialists, and to see a great diversity of corals, fish, and other creatures. There are also opportunities to walk with naturalists on some of the islands in search of birdlife and to swim in the azure waters. (B,L,D)

DAY 10: CIENFUEGOS

Explore Cienfuegos, Cuba's "Pearl of the South" and a World Heritage site. Explore on foot, seeing its grand buildings and beautiful main square. Continue to a school of art, where talented young people develop their skills. Choose to visit a village where sugar used to be processed. Then return to Cienfuegos for a children's performance and sunset drinks on a rooftop, before a farewell dinner aboard ship. (B,L,D)

DAY 11: CIENFUEGOS/ DISEMBARK/HOME

We disembark this morning, with a program of people-to-people visits during the day before we transfer to Cienfuegos airport for our late afternoon flight to Miami. (B,L)
