An aerial photograph of a Norwegian fjord valley. In the foreground, a rocky, moss-covered cliffside slopes down towards a lush green valley. The valley contains a small town with red-roofed buildings and a parking lot. A road winds through the green fields. In the background, a large, deep fjord is visible, surrounded by steep, snow-dusted mountains under a cloudy sky. A small blue object, possibly a cable car, is visible on a track in the lower right foreground.

Get a fresh look at Europe, a destination at once familiar and filled with surprises. Join Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic as we navigate ancient routes of exploration and trade, sail to secluded isles and shorelines that harbor vibrant hamlets and fascinating wildlife, and connect with the cultures that shaped the continent's most celebrated places.

Experience Europe From a New Perspective With

Lindblad Expeditions and National Geographic are united in a shared mission to take curious travelers deeper into storied places that paint a richer picture of our world. Together, we craft itineraries that inspire and transform, pushing the boundaries of discovery to offer wholly unique experiences led by the foremost experts on your destination.

Travel With a Veteran Team

Explore with an expedition team that is passionate about understanding the world around us: historians who give context to medieval castles and ancient stone circles, cultural experts who interpret traditional dances, archaeologists who bring the ruins of antiquity to life. Many of our veteran guides are locally based in the destinations we travel to and have worked with us for decades. With a ratio of one guide for every 10 to 15 guests, you will hear different perspectives and gain new insights every day.

Take Great Photos With the Pros

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC

A Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic certified photo instructor (CPI) travels on board every voyage and a National Geographic Photography Expert joins select departures. They are available to assist travelers with everything from camera settings to composition. Every guest—from smartphone camera users to advanced hobbyists—can shoot alongside top photographers, pick up tips in the field, and return home with the photos of a lifetime. On select ships, travelers also have access to a complimentary OM System Photo Gear Locker, stocked with new lenses, camera bodies, and other equipment that you can test in the field.

Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic

Actively Explore Every Day

Our itineraries feature a range of activities designed to foster an encompassing and in-depth exploration of your destination. Hike to the base of a hidden Icelandic waterfall, try your hand at hurling in Ireland, or stroll the winding streets of colorful Amalfi. No matter the expedition, you will be able to explore your way—and at your own pace—every day.

Commitment to Conservation

Sustainability is at the heart of our mission, and you can travel with peace of mind, knowing every voyage we sail gives back to the places we explore through the Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic Fund. Together with our guests, we have contributed more than $20 million to protect our oceans, restore marine and coastal habitats, and foster environmental stewardship around the world.

ALL IN: Activities and excursions are always included in the voyage price.

Kirkjufell waterfall and mountain, Iceland.

Clockwise from top: Guests enjoy the beauty of Sea Cloud under sail; Lord of the Glens transits the Caledonian Canal, Scotland; Musicians in Siglufjörður, Iceland; Guests kayak in Nordfjorden, Norway.

Expertly Crafted Coastal European Adventures

Explorers have long found inspiration on the shorelines of Europe, from the Vikings who launched their longships from Norwegian fjords to the navigators who set sail from Portugal's golden sands. Today, coastal Europe still holds the promise of discovery for expedition travelers.

On the fringes of the European continent, little-known wonders are found along captivating seafronts—treasures like an ancient basalt sea cave in Scotland, volcanic Azorean vineyards, and prehistoric standing stones in the Corsican countryside.

To sail Europe with Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic is to encounter both the iconic and unfamiliar, exploring a wide range of geographies to gain unique perspectives on the threads that connect their histories and cultures. Our small ships sail deftly among windswept archipelagos, through historic canals, and into open water, inviting you to see Europe's seascapes through the eyes of the explorers who came before. And the team at the helm of each expedition—including naturalists, cultural experts, historians, and certified photo instructors—offers expert insights into Europe's past to help illuminate her present.

We take you to the front doors of grand medieval cities and picturesque Mediterranean harbors, approaching them in an authentic, time-honored way and immersing you in their illustrious histories. And the special experiences we arrange on shore with local chefs, fishermen, musicians, and art curators help you forge deeper connections to the cultures that helped shape these storied places. Explore Europe with Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic and discover new perspectives on timeless treasures.

Experience More When You Explore by Small Ship

Perfectly Appointed Vessels

A fleet of comfortable, purpose-built small ships play host to our European voyages. The 81-cabin National Geographic Explorer is the quintessential expedition vessel, equally at home on the high seas or in the small harbors of Europe. Our new, state-of-the-art sister ships National Geographic Endurance and National Geographic Resolution each feature 76 cabins, sleek Scandinavian design, and special amenities such as infinity hot tubs and twin saunas.

In the Mediterranean, we travel aboard elegant tall ships from the Sea Cloud fleet—traditional windjammers that harken back to the Golden Age of Sail. Whether you board the historic, 30-cabin Sea Cloud or her modern counterpart, the 44-cabin Sea Cloud II, you will experience all the glamor and thrill of traveling under billowing sail. Last, but certainly not least, the purpose-built, 25-cabin Lord of the Glens is one of the only ships of its kind that can navigate the Caledonian Canal through the heart of Scotland's Highlands and the open waters off the country's coastlines.

Spend Less Time Unpacking and More Time Exploring

Traveling Europe by ship allows you to experience a variety of countries and cultures without the effort of getting yourself from one place to the next. Unpack once and wake up daily in a new destination, refreshed and ready for a multitude of adventures. Our vessels take you from vibrant coastal cities to tiny seaside villages steeped in tradition, as well as to rugged and remote islands—all without the hassle of transferring at airports, boarding trains, or changing hotels.

Savor the Flavors of Your Destination

Sampling local cuisine is a highlight of traveling in Europe, and we take great care to bring the continent's culinary riches to the meals you enjoy on board. Each ship's executive chef designs innovative menus that feature essential dishes from the regions you visit, whether it's Spanish paella or Greek souvlaki. Special onshore experiences, like a traditional peka lunch on the Croatian island of Vis, invite guests to forge even deeper connections with local culinary traditions.

Cultural Encounters on Shore and on Board

A voyage through coastal Europe offers abundant opportunities to share in local cultural traditions, from learning about the marsala-making process in Sicily to witnessing eiderdown farming in Iceland. Cultural exchange continues on board the ship, with events like demonstrations from local artists, special music and dance performances, and concerts curated by ethnomusicologist Jacob Edgar on select voyages.

The Ideal Icelandic Adventure

Iceland is the ideal destination for every type of traveler—a land of geological extremes where Earth’s drama unfolds around every corner. In 2024, we will begin offering more departures of our most popular Icelandic expeditions—A Circumnavigation of Iceland and Wild Iceland Escape—and adding our exclusive program for young explorers to summer sailings.

An abundance of nonstop flights from the United States make travel to Reykjavík effortless; fly from the eastern seaboard in just over five hours and find yourself amid Iceland’s otherworldly landscapes. Exploring aboard our fleet, you’ll enjoy the added ease of unpacking once and letting us take you along wild coastlines brimming with wonders.

AIR OFFERS: Receive an air credit of up to $2,000 per person on select 2024 expeditions. See page 46 for details.

Goðafoss Waterfall, Iceland.

Go Beyond the Blue Lagoon

The area in and around Reykjavík has become a popular stopover for travelers who want to take in the sights of the capital and soak in the famous Blue Lagoon. But the authentic heart of Iceland lies in its remote landscapes, its rugged interior, and its hard-to-reach coastal gems—and exploring by expedition ship is the perfect way to venture deep into the country’s most secluded corners.

Cruise by Zodiac to the base of thundering waterfalls. Sail from the open ocean into towering fjords and watch them narrow as you approach volcanic beaches. Go ashore in small towns and villages that were only accessible by water up until the late 20th century. Along the way, take in Iceland’s hidden beauty and secluded rural cultures with the local guides, experts, and musicians who accompany our journey.

Exploration for Every Generation

Our expeditions to Iceland have something for everyone: the grade schooler fascinated by Vikings and Icelandic folklore, the teenager or college grad with a newfound interest in the climate sciences, the grandparent who wants to observe arctic terns and puffins. Each voyage offers a range of activities, from leisurely photo walks along black-sand beaches to 4x4 rides through the remote highlands. Beginning in 2024, we will also offer our exclusive, interactive program for young explorers 18 and under on summer departures of A Circumnavigation of Iceland and Wild Iceland Escape.

Surprising Sights and Uncommon Adventures

Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic voyages are expertly curated to include unique destinations and excursions that allow you to experience a different side of Europe. Alongside our knowledgeable expedition teams and handpicked local experts, enjoy unexpected adventures, from a chef-guided market tour in the Azores to a hurling demonstration in Cobh.

Celebrate Norway's Independence Day

Add a twist to your annual Independence Day celebrations by taking part in Syttende Mai, or 17th of May, honoring the 1814 signing of the Norwegian Constitution. In 2024, join in the celebrations, which include parades, gatherings, and plenty of traditional food. (See pg. 25)

Try Your Hand at Hurling

Visit a local hurling club in Cobh for a demonstration of this stick-and-ball game with Gaelic origins. Meet the players, then pick up a wooden hurley and try your hand at passing the sliotar down the field. (See pg. 22)

Go Back to the Bronze Age in Sardinia

In the second millennia B.C., a conical defensive structure known as nuraghi developed on Sardinia, which harbors the finest remaining example of this unique architecture: Su Naraxi di Barumini. After visiting this UNESCO site, delve into its history at a nearby archaeological museum. (See pg. 33)

Unearth Azorean Culinary Traditions

Guided by a local chef in the Azores, select fresh ingredients at a market, then prepare and enjoy cozido, an Azorean specialty stew that's naturally cooked underground by the volcanic activity of São Miguel's verdant Furnas Valley. (See pg. 20)

Hike Crete's Samaria Gorge

Take on the challenge of hiking one of Europe's longest canyons: the Samaria Gorge on the island of Crete. This spectacularly scenic trek winds through a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve of soaring cliffs and Mediterranean forests that host endemic species like wild goat. (See pg. 16)

See Where Michelangelo Sourced Marble

Michelangelo was among the first artists to recognize the beauty of the stone from the marble quarries near Pietransanta. Today, the Tuscan town is known as 'Little Athens' for the international artisans—marble sculptors in particular—with studios along the charming medieval streets. (See pg. 30)

Sardinia's Su Nuraxi is the best-preserved evidence of the ancient Nuragic civilization, and was declared a UNESCO site in 1997.

European Expeditions

Navigate to Europe's coastal cities and wild isles in fascinating destinations from the Azores to Iceland. Experience the continent's historic ports and storied shores in a unique way—on Zodiac, kayaking, and hiking excursions—and enjoy expert insights from our expedition teams, whose passion and knowledge enhance your experience.

Nicholas Kristof

In 2025, we are thrilled to welcome acclaimed journalist Nicholas Kristof to the National Geographic Endurance as a special guest speaker on the April 2 departure of Islands of the Azores: Basalt Peaks to Volcanic Vineyards.

Two-time Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Nicholas Kristof has contributed to The New York Times for nearly four decades—as a reporter and a columnist—covering topics ranging from presidential politics to human rights issues. Early in his career, Kristof backpacked through Africa and Asia, writing articles to fund his travels. He has lived on four continents, reported on six, and visited more than 150 countries. During his adventures, he survived malaria, encounters with wars and warlords, and an airplane crash, among other adversities.

After joining The New York Times in 1984, Kristof served as a correspondent in Los Angeles, Hong Kong, Beijing, and Tokyo. He has interviewed everyone from President Obama to Iranian President Ahmadinejad, and he was the first blogger on The New York Times website.

In 1990, Kristof and his wife, Sheryl WuDunn—then also a journalist for The New York Times—became the first husband-wife team to win a Pulitzer Prize for journalism for their coverage of China’s Tiananmen

Square democracy movement. Kristof won his second Pulitzer in 2006 for what the judges called “his graphic, deeply reported columns that, at personal risk, focused attention on genocide in Darfur and that gave voice to the voiceless in other parts of the world.”

Together, Kristof and WuDunn have written five best-selling books, including Half the Sky and A Path Appears, each of which inspired a prime-time PBS documentary series. Kristof has won innumerable awards, including the Dayton Literary Peace Prize, the Anne Frank Award, and the Fred Cuny Award for Prevention of Armed Conflict.

As a speaker, Kristof captivates with his moving storytelling and unique insights into the events that shape our world. On our voyage through the Azores, he will share lessons learned from his decades of reporting, as well as thoughts on the philanthropy revolution—a movement that extends to sustainability initiatives. As a leading destination in sustainable tourism, the Azores provides a fascinating backdrop for discussions with Kristof on how conservation is tied to human rights and social justice.

Mary Robinson

On 2025 departures of Ancient Isles: England, Ireland, and Scotland, travelers will be joined for a portion of their journey by the renowned Mary Robinson, former President of Ireland, chair of The Elders, and the former UN special envoy on climate change.

Mary Robinson is one of the world's most respected advocates for climate justice. Her new book, Climate Justice, has received praise from former world leaders and the environmental and human rights community.

Robinson is a graduate of Trinity College and Harvard Law School. She holds honorary doctorates from more than 40 of the world's most elite universities and is the recipient of the Indira Gandhi and Sydney Peace Prizes. Robinson served in the Irish Senate for 20 years before ascending to the Presidency in 1990. She is widely regarded as a groundbreaking leader who helped shape modern Ireland in a period of rapid economic growth.

In 2007, Robinson became a founding member of The Elders, an independent group of global leaders formed by Nelson Mandela to tackle the world's most pressing issues. She was appointed as the UN special envoy on climate change in 2016 and has sounded the alarm when extreme weather events have disproportionately affected the world's most vulnerable populations.

Robinson is looking forward to returning to the Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic fleet as a guest speaker on the Ireland portion of our journey. She brings the thoughtful leadership of a former head of state, a grandmother's passionately felt concern for the future, and the compelling stories of the thousands she has met traveling the world as a champion for climate justice and human rights. Among our travelers, she is known for sparking meaningful conversations and framing climate issues in solvable terms, leaving guests hopeful and inspired to change the course of our planet's future.

OUR SHIPS

The World's Most Dynamic Expedition Fleet

Meet the fleet of ships that charted a course for expedition cruising in Europe. These small and nimble vessels are as diverse as their destinations—each designed to discover specific geographies and stocked with a curated collection of expedition tools to enhance your experience on shore and on board. Visit expeditions.com/fleet to learn more.

National Geographic Endurance & National Geographic Resolution

138 guests in 76 outside cabins and suites

These next-generation expedition ships are truly in a class of their own—fully stabilized, highly strengthened, and rated in a top-tier ice class category (Polar Code 5 Category A). They are able to navigate polar passages year-round and safely explore uncharted waters, and the wave-slicing technology of the patented X-bow® ensures the smoothest ride possible. Superb amenities—such as outdoor infinity hot tubs, saunas, and twin glass igloos equipped for overnight stays—ensure luxuriant days at sea.
