DISCOVER THE JOY OF WILD ANIMALS SIMPLY LIVING THEIR LIVES IN FRONT OF YOU

ON AN AFRICAN SAFARI, YOUR GUIDES HAVE TO WORK HARD to ensure you'll spot one of the often-elusive 'big five' species. In Galápagos, no binoculars required. Chances are, your naturalists will have to route you around the charismatic endemic species that cross your path, graze beside you, take a break, or take a nap pretty much anywhere they want. There's always fascinating behavior to observe and learn about—courtship, nesting, raising young, feeding, defending territory and more. And because Galápagos' animals don't fear humans, you'll have a rare experience of closeness—literally and figuratively. You could visit Galápagos 50 times, as Sven Lindblad has, and see something new each time, any time of the year.

Travel with us, and our 50+ years of experience guarantees you exciting opportunities every day. As do our two ships. Choose the yacht-scaled 48-guest National Geographic Islander, or the 96-guest National Geographic Endeavour II. With different personalities to suit a range of different travel tastes, both are equally well-equipped for getting you out on thrilling, personal explorations, and rewarding you with comfort and amenities.

“Galápagos National Park and Charles Darwin Foundation were established 60 years ago this year—on the centennial of the publication of Darwin's Origin of Species. And since the beginning, we have been an active partner in conservation. Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic guests have donated more than $8.7 million to important conservation, education, and research priorities in Galápagos. When my father came to Galápagos in 1967, he was astounded that the animals showed no fear of humans. The fact that you can have the exact same experience today is no accident—it's thanks to these enlightened organizations. Learn more on pages 14-15.”

COME TO GALÁPAGOS ASSURED
YOU'LL SEE WHAT'S PROMISED
& RELY ON US TO SEE EVEN MORE

AS NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC ISLANDER NAVIGATED THE SHORE OF Isabela Island, a naturalist spotted the telltale fin of a large male orca! A ship-wide announcement and precise teamwork got all out to see seven whales, diving back and forth before us. Then, after lunch—five blue whales, the largest species on Earth, plus a smaller Bryde’s whale among them!

How do you get to eyewitness nature’s best spectacles? It happens because your entire crew is dead-set on creating unforgettable experiences for you. It happens because your captain, your expedition leader and the naturalists are joined at the hip when it comes to capitalizing on the opportunities that nature might present. It happens because your entire team is committed to doing what it takes so you can have this experience, in addition to all the planned ones. After all, you didn’t come all this way to miss one moment of natural drama and spectacle: you came to get as close as possible. It’s a production, alright. And you’re front row for the show.

Legendary expedition leader (EL) Lynn Fowler is retiring. A Galápagos naturalist since 1978, Lynn has made her home aboard National Geographic Islander since 2004. Deeply connected to Galápagos, Lynn is being honored in the same year we celebrate the 60th Anniversary of the Charles Darwin Foundation and the Galápagos National Park. See pages 14-15 for more. And please plan to join Lynn in her last year!

“We just had an off-the-charts experience: snorkeling with bottlenose dolphins in the channel between Santiago and the Bainbridge islets! I had a small group of experienced snorkelers, including Kathryn & Anneka M. at Sombrero Chino. We were just getting out of the water, my panguero spotted the dolphins and off we went! We were able to jump in among them multiple times. Fantastic. We called the ship, and two more Zodiacs came out, so some of the others also had a look. But, by luck, those in my boat had an incredible half hour swim with dolphins! There was even a mother with a tiny, curious baby!”

— LYNN FOWLER

YOUR EXPEDITION TEAM IS ACE
AT DOING WHATEVER IT TAKES

IN MANY RESPECTS, GALÁPAGOS DOESN'T EXIST UNTIL YOU discover it. When you step off our ship, it's as if it's 1790 and you're a Nantucket whaler stretching your sea legs, or it's 1835 and you're Charles Darwin, disembarking the Beagle to explore the unexplored. But sometimes even the most intrepid of adventurers need a guide—and that's where we come in. Our team has the knowledge and the passion for Galápagos that will kindle yours. And our generous staff-to-guest ratio means you can gravitate to the naturalists whose personalities and interests match yours. They will do whatever it takes, from maintaining a lookout so you don't miss a passing whale; offering an extra snorkel when sea turtles are congregating nearby; or pausing on a walk, as it happens, to witness the birth of a sea lion pup. They'll help you to see, do, and absorb all the extraordinary experiences—in comfort, with inspiration, great conversations, and excellent dining included.

“It's absolutely amazing to me what the staff is willing and able to do to make each day extraordinary. We didn't just get to see Sierra Negro volcano erupting, that was amazing enough. We had a “LAVA BBQ” on deck, so everyone could enjoy the spectacle and have an incredible dinner too. Then the captain arranged with the naturalists and hotel staff to stay in the area, so that we could see and photograph the spectacle again at dawn. It was so exciting on every level. Impressive!”

— JAKE W. GUEST

YOU'RE EXPLORING GALÁPAGOS WITH THE FREEDOM TO ENJOY IT YOUR WAY

EACH DAY, WE PROVIDE A FRESH DESTINATION PLUS

all kinds of choices of what to do. Hike, paddleboard, kayak. Snorkel, arrange to dive, hang out with your photo instructor. But should you decide to sleep in, have a slow breakfast, and get a massage, nobody will look at you funny. You're on vacation. Your vacation. Our schedules are flexible and our itineraries more a function of what's to see than where we need to be. So, if you want to work up a sweat on your walk, snorkel every time it's offered, (often two times a day) or sit and breathe it all in—do it. It's your adventure. Our generous staff-to-guest ratio means you can always find a naturalist whose interests and approach you share. You're free to explore the ship, find your nook or cranny. And always welcome to come up to the Bridge and shoot the breeze with the captain and officers.

We enable Scuba divers to experience Galápagos' diverse marine life, by arrangement with a local dive operation. Available to intermediate and advanced divers with recent experience, diving is available on select National Geographic Endeavour II departures, at an additional cost. Speak with an Expedition Specialist for dates and details.

THE MOST EXHILARATING DISCOVERIES ARE THE ONES YOU MAKE TOGETHER

WHETHER IT'S KAYAKING ALONG A LAVA WALL, EYED BY rare Galápagos penguins, laughing at blue-footed booby antics, or observing grazing tortoises in the highlands, we believe shared activities in a wild and unfamiliar environment can bring a family together. Our expeditions ensure seamless family getaways where everything is taken care of. Kids thrive in the safe, comfortable space of the ship where they can exercise a measure of autonomy. Our naturalists and National Geographic certified field educators are excellent role models who ably embed learning into every activity. And since we believe in the value of sharing Galápagos with your kids and grandkids for fun and learning, we're offering $1,000 savings on select 2019 departures for each child under 18.

National Geographic Global Explorers Program

Our exclusive program for kids and teens is the only one of its kind in Galápagos travel. Developed in conjunction with National Geographic Education, it's designed to help kids and teens under 18 develop the attitudes, skills, and knowledge of an explorer. Families discover a unique way to explore and connect with each other and the natural world. And kids engage in a variety of cool optional activities, guided by a National Geographic certified field educator. Visit expeditions.com/family for program details.

The background is a soft, out-of-focus sunset or sunrise, with warm orange and yellow tones transitioning into a pale blue sky. The overall mood is serene and evocative.

IN LOVE WITH GALÁPAGOS FOR 50 YEARS AND COUNTING

IN 1967 LARS-ERIC LINDBLAD LED THE FIRST CITIZEN expedition to Galápagos. He instinctively knew tourism would be vital to the islands' conservation, and he supported both the Charles Darwin Foundation and Galápagos National Park from the very beginning. We are delighted to celebrate the 60th Anniversary of these two great organizations. Join us in 2019 to be a part of honoring enlightened conservation, and meet engaging individuals.

Arturo Izurieta, Executive Director of the Charles Darwin Foundation, is a former naturalist guide, popular lecturer, and passionate advocate for the islands. He joins us aboard National Geographic Endeavour II as a Guest Speaker on Nov. 29, 2019.

Carlyn Iverson returns aboard Endeavour II as Artist-in-Residence, to teach her popular art classes. She designed exhibits for the Charles Darwin Exhibition Hall on Santa Cruz, illustrated the just-published Atlas of the Galápagos, and will also be creating a new mural for the Charles Darwin Research Station this year. Join her on the Oct. 25, Nov. 1 & 15, 2019 voyages. With over four pioneering decades in the islands—30 of them on the Lindblad team—National Geographic Islander expedition leader Lynn Fowler is the definitive Galápagos hand. She did doctoral field work among the tortoises of Alcedo; raised two children in the islands; serves as a governing member of the Charles Darwin Foundation; led citizen science in the islands, and has been a constant inspiration. Join us to say goodbye to Lynn on one of a dozen voyages scheduled this year, including her last two: Dec. 7 and 14, 2019.

TWO SHIPS, DIFFERENT PERSONALITIES WITH THE SAME ABILITY TO THRILL

WELL EQUIPPED FOR ADVENTURES OFF SHIP, NATIONAL Geographic Islander and National Geographic Endeavour II are equally well equipped for living well. Gathering places like the open decks, lounge and dining room contribute to the esprit de corps that is a hallmark of our expeditions. Fully stocked libraries serve those who want to learn more and those who want to settle in with a best-seller. Our wellness centers, fitness rooms, and on-deck stretching sessions with our wellness specialists add the mind-body connection to Galápagos' "tonic of wildness." And cossetting cabins, outfitted with our signature linens and feather duvets, provide the perfect ending to active days.

OUR SHIPS

EXPLORE THE ENCHANTED
ISLANDS WITH THE COMPANY
BEST ADAPTED TO REVEAL THEM

IN THE GALÁPAGOS, NO SINGLE SITE CAN BE VISITED BY the same ship more than once over a two-week period. The idea was developed in 2011, and Lindblad was the first voluntary adopter of this innovative new proposal by the Galápagos National Park, which had as its purpose to spread people out to allow for a more intimate experience. We have created an optimal balance during each week in terms of terrain and wildlife. If you wish to see all the sites, you could join for two weeks, but be assured there is no better week to experience Galápagos—just nuances from one week to the other.

And now we offer in addition to our classic 10-day expedition, more compact 7-day expeditions and 9-day Galápagos + Peru. No matter which you choose, you'll visit key islands, experience all the habitats and meet the legendary Galápagos inhabitants.

EXPEDITION HIGHLIGHTS

- Visit a new island daily
- Walk among wildlife unfazed by your presence
- Snorkel, sometimes twice a day, with sea lions, sea turtles and abundant fish, or explore in a glass-bottom boat (National Geographic Endeavour II)
- Head into the highlands to observe giant Galápagos tortoises in the wild
- Enjoy our daily cocktail hour Recap with engaging presentations, including the undersea, by naturalists and photographers
