NIMBLE EXPEDITION SHIPS THAT CAN TAKE YOU WHERE OTHERS CANNOT

STAND ON DECK AND WATCH AS THE COLUMBIA RIVER

shoreline changes from stark rock to vibrant forest. Feel the spray of seawater as your expedition landing craft whisks you through the surf to shore. Our ships in the Pacific Northwest are nimble enough to tie up at the small docks along the river; and they're outfitted with landing craft to access locations along Canadian coastal waterways untouched by tourist infrastructure. We have been exploring here for decades, and our fleet of three ideally-sized ships will convey you to beautiful places where larger ships simply cannot go.

Intimately scaled, with open bows and decks for unobstructed wildlife viewing, they are the perfect platforms for off-the-beaten-path experiences. All three vessels are equipped with a roster of exploration tools that make expedition travel so rewarding. A fleet of kayaks and paddleboards enable you to get out on personal water-level adventures, and splash cams, underwater video cameras, and video microscopes give you a glimpse beneath the water's surface in the Salish Sea.

“We are thrilled with our newest ship, National Geographic Venture, designed to give a complement of 100 guests the same intimate, inclusive experience the 62-guest National Geographic Sea Bird and Sea Lion provide. They've introduced a generation to the profound joys of up-close, personal exploration with expert naturalists, and a collegial expedition community.

DESIGNED TO PROVIDE THE OPTIMAL ONBOARD EXPERIENCE

EVERYBODY KNOWS THE MOST FAMOUS MANTRA IN REAL estate: “Location, location, location.” When you’re aboard National Geographic Sea Lion, National Geographic Sea Bird, or National Geographic Venture, you’re always in prime real estate. Whether standing on the open deck as the ship passes through the colossal locks on the Columbia & Snake Rivers or scanning the shore for wildlife along British Columbia’s Gulf Islands, you’ll experience the marvels of the region from the ideal vantage point. Large windows in the ships’ dining rooms mean you never have to sacrifice a view, and delicious meals are sourced locally, so you can taste the best of the Pacific Northwest. In the lounge, where camaraderie kindles, we gather daily for Recap when naturalists share stories and answer questions about the day’s events, and the expedition leader presents the plan for the following day.

TASTE THE BOUNTY OF THE REGION

DISCOVER THE BOUNTIFUL PACIFIC NORTHWEST IN THE SHIPS' DINING ROOMS, on farms, in orchards, and at wineries. Our chefs provision our ships along our route, shopping at local farms as part of a program that raises the bar on locality, seasonality, and sustainability. Our certification as a Food Alliance Supply Chain Ally ensures that food served aboard is produced by well-treated workers, derived from humanely-raised animals, and that regional wildlife habitats are protected and enhanced in its production. And our Monterey Bay Aquarium Seafood Watch certification means that seafood served aboard our fleet is harvested in environmentally responsible ways. For you, that means delicious dining that highlights the best of the area.

On our Columbia and Snake Rivers voyage, enjoy a farm-to-table lunch in Walla Walla on spring departures, or in the golden Hood River Valley in the fall, and welcome a vintner or brewer aboard for a sampling in the ship's lounge. And on the British Columbia itinerary, learn about polyculture farming, the next level of farm sustainability. Then enjoy a dinner entirely sourced from a local polyculture farm. Eat well, and go home with a deeper knowledge of how delectable dining and sustainability can live in harmony.

DOING WHATEVER IT TAKES TO MAKE YOUR EXPERIENCE EXTRAORDINARY

in the pre-dawn light, constantly manning spotting scopes to search for killer whales along the coast, or staying up late for an impromptu stargazing, our team is dedicated to revealing the Pacific Northwest and ensuring you an exceptional experience. Benefit from the personalities of an expedition leader, naturalists, a Lindblad-National Geographic certified photo instructor, and on select departures a National Geographic photographer. Enjoy the company and perspective of a historian who can quote extensively from the journals of Lewis and Clark, or an anthropologist who has lived among the Coast Salish peoples of the San Juan Islands. Depending on your itinerary, you'll also travel with either a geologist or undersea specialist.

COLUMBIA & SNAKE RIVERS JOURNEY

THE POWERFUL COLUMBIA AND SNAKE RIVERS FLOW

through some of the world's most geologically fascinating landscapes, carved over time by tumultuous floods and volcanic eruptions. Get an up-close look at towering canyons, massive waterfalls, ancient petroglyphs, and rocky shorelines where bighorn sheep roam free. Along the way you'll also travel through a series of eight locks, visit intriguing museums, and savor this fertile region's abundant bounty—from salmon fished right out of these waterways to award-winning wines and craft brews. Overlaying it all: the intrepid spirit of Lewis and Clark and the Corps of Discovery. As you travel in their wake, your historian will weave tales of this dramatic episode in American history.

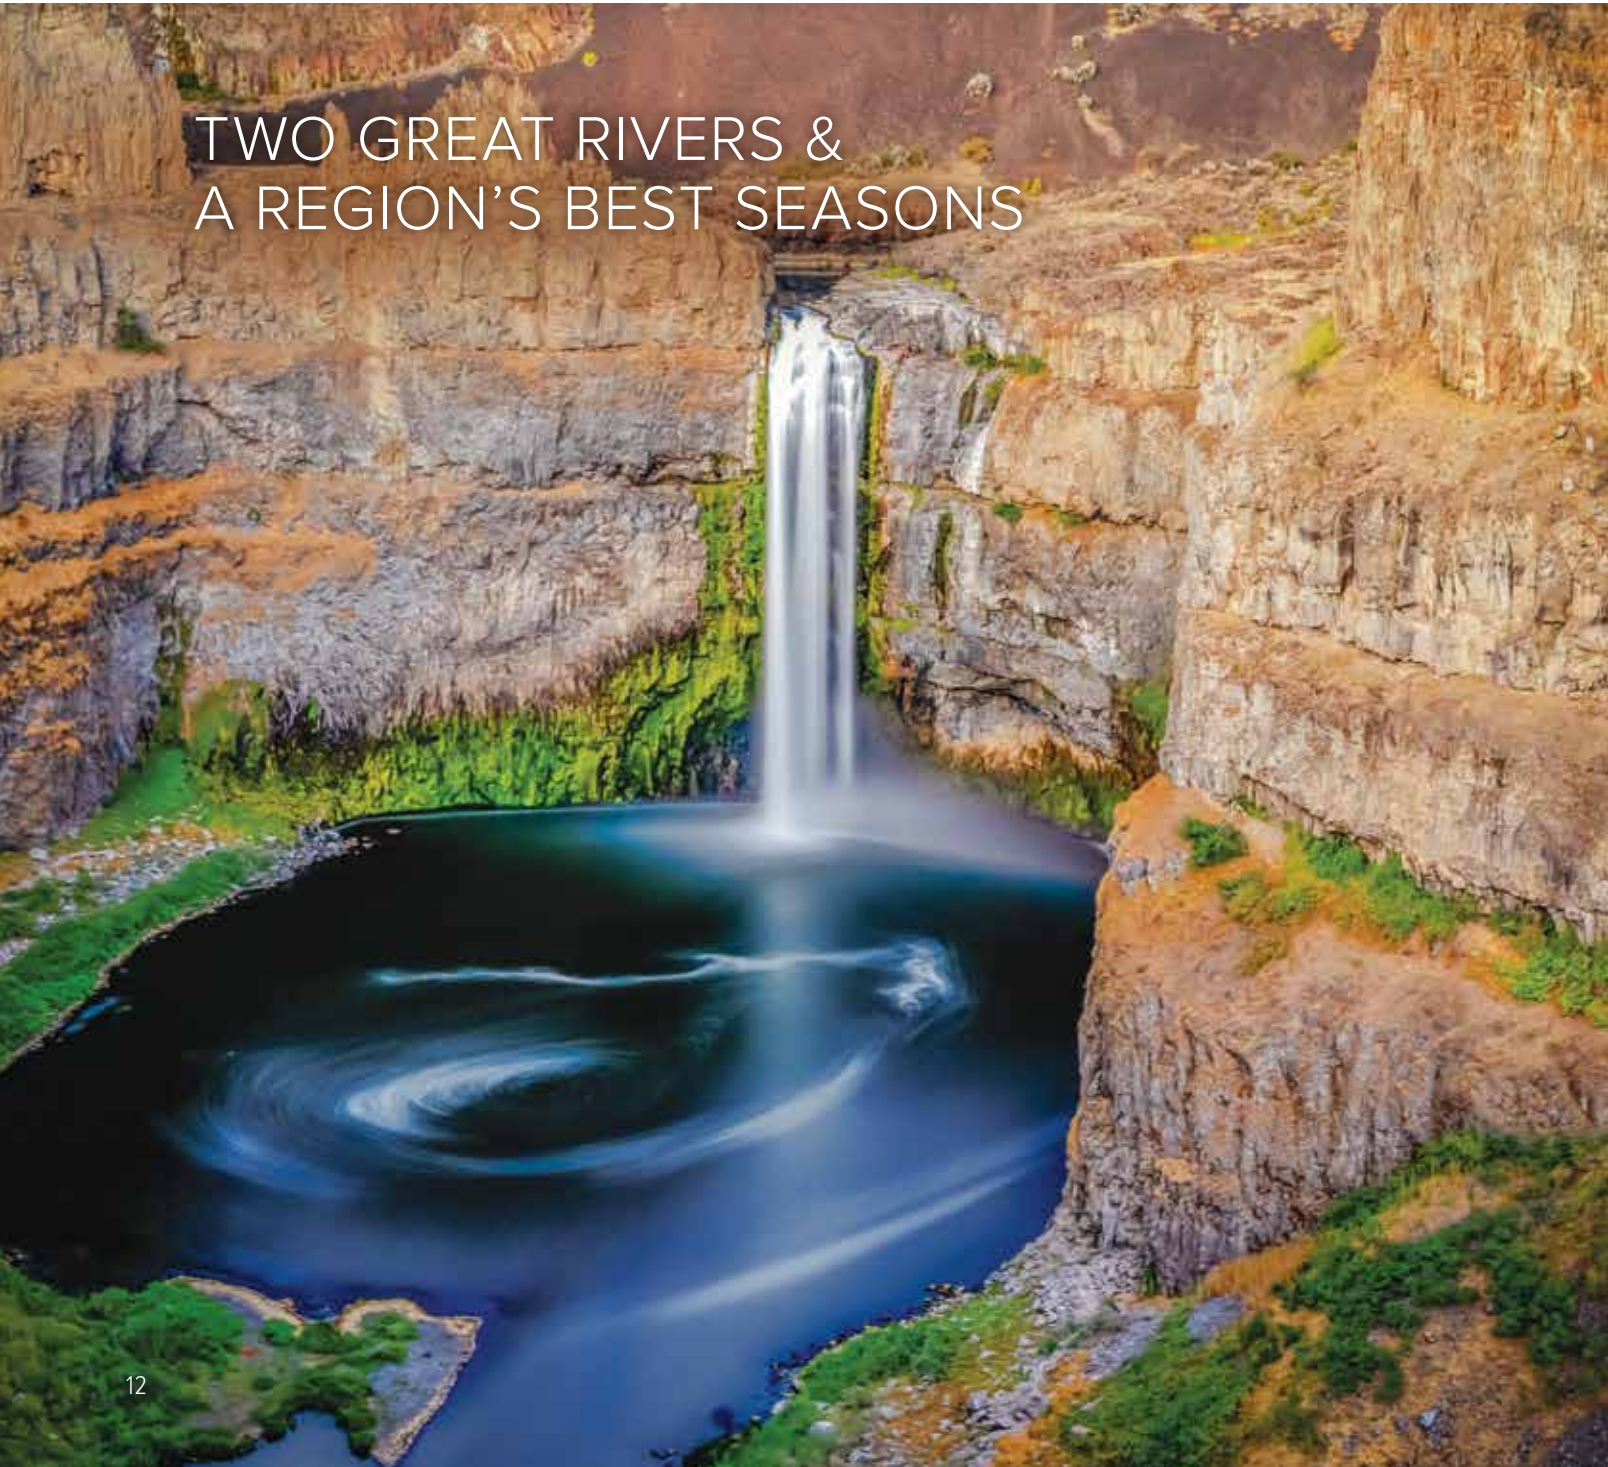

SPECIAL GUEST SPEAKER

Dr. James J. Rawls is the author of more than thirty books in the history of the American West and a long-time professor at colleges and universities. TWO GREAT RIVERS & A REGION'S BEST SEASONS

FALL'S BOUNTY. Harvest time along the Columbia and Snake rivers bursts with flavors—and in our own dining room as we provision the ship from local markets and wineries. Photo ops abound with dark green hillsides interrupted by reds, golds, and greens as the leaves change.

SPRING FORWARD. Clouds of blossoms in the orchards, vines straining to the sun—the spring bloom in this region is extraordinary. Enjoy the effervescence up close—whether on a visit to a local vineyard for lunch and a tasting, an optional whitewater rafting trip down the White Salmon River, or in the river-flanking vistas.

ON THE TRAIL OF LEWIS & CLARK. The fascinating legacy of the Lewis and Clark expedition permeates this region. We'll see Beacon Rock, where they knew they were approaching the Pacific; the spot where they portaged Celilo Falls; and Hat Rock, one of the distinctive landmarks passed by the Corps of Discovery on its journey down the Columbia.

EXPERIENCE MORE. Discover Portland and the Willamette Valley as optional pre- or post-extensions. In Portland, explore highlights of this quirky and picturesque city. Just outside the city, enjoy tastings at three award-winning wineries in Willamette Valley. Or try award-winning vintages on a brand new historic and culinary adventure in Lewiston. See pages 26-27 for details.

A large group of dolphins, likely Pacific Humpback dolphins, are captured in mid-leap from the water. They are scattered across the middle ground, creating a dynamic scene with many white splashes. The dolphins are dark grey with lighter underbellies. In the background, a rugged, grey rock coastline is visible, topped with a dense forest of green trees. The water is a calm, light greyish-blue. The overall scene is vibrant and captures a moment of high energy in nature.

BRITISH COLUMBIA & THE SAN JUAN ISLANDS

YOU'LL EXPLORE NOT JUST ONE STUNNING SHORELINE

but many on this expedition. The newest state-of-the-art ship in the U.S. Fleet threads the Salish Sea, tucks into straits and sounds, and weaves through island groups known for their charm: the San Juan Islands, Vancouver Island, and the Gulf Islands. There is much to see, and even more to do—from wildlife sighting and personal forays into nature by Zodiac, kayak, or paddleboard, to active engagement with the culture and beauty of the First Nation lands, and cosmopolitan Victoria. We will always provide an explanation of the reason for increase in costs.
