

SEA CLOUD

FOR EXPLORING IN GOLDEN AGE STYLE

THE CARIBBEAN
NEW! CORSICA & SARDINIA
THE GREEK ISLES

PLUS
SEA CLOUD HOSPITALITY WITH OUR COMPLIMENTS

“Go back home and tell your friends and family that this kind of experience exists, because most people don’t know you can even do this kind of thing in the 21st century.”

Dear Traveler,

To me, traveling aboard Sea Cloud, a historic four-masted barque, is an overall multisensory experience of the rarest kind—and this is true wherever you choose to explore. Sea Cloud in the Caribbean is idyllic because little competes with the sensual pleasure of the balmy air and the constant trade winds that invite everyone out on deck. And Sea Cloud in the Mediterranean is quintessential because it provides non-stop opportunities to set off from our anchorages or ports—where Sea Cloud is invariably the most beautiful ship—to explore the extraordinary beauty and charm of coastal towns, and linger among antiquities and sites ‘sacred’ to Western civilization. Whether you’re passively watching the athletic young crew scrambling high in the rigging, lolling in what Marjorie Merriweather Post called the “blue lagoon,” or learning to capture the sun on sails with your Lindblad-National Geographic certified photo instructor, the life aboard Sea Cloud is either the point, or the perfect interlude between explorations.

I invite you to hedge your bets against winter by booking a Sea Cloud Caribbean vacation! Or join us on any other itinerary for one of the most extraordinary experiences contemporary life still offers.

We look forward to welcoming you. And please, pack casually.

Tom O'Brien

“The lecture and interpretive component our historian provides is integral...”

Caribbean history, language, and religion are extremely interesting, and Tom Heffernan, our voyage historian, is particularly gifted at bringing them to life. His program of talks is perfectly coordinated to our Caribbean itinerary, creating genuine awareness and cultural connection. Many guests tell us that they've vacationed in the Caribbean before, but never found it particularly interesting until now. Others remark on how eager and confident they feel to interact with locals in the authentic pockets of the Caribbean we visit, that are untainted by big cruise ships. In the Mediterranean, where in-depth knowledge is vital to the quality of your experience, Tom's expertise in Greco-Roman history, and fellow lecturer Robin Woodward's knowledge of Mediterranean history and nautical archaeology, will prove transformative.

Captain Evgeny Nemerzhitskiy has returned to Sea Cloud. One of the greatest square-rig captains of the 21st century, he was master of the famed Russian training ship Kruzenshtern, formerly the Padua, and the only Flying P-Line ship still sailing. He brings expertise, leadership, and boyish enthusiasm for square-rig sailing that adds immeasurably to the fun and excitement for all.

*Shot of guests returning to Sea Cloud in the evening from Bequia, the island to which young Alexander Hamilton’s father moved, effectively abandoning him. Ron Chernow’s masterful Hamilton biography is a book many guests have had aboard these past couple of years.*

“Where else can you enjoy a shorts-and-deck-shoes vacation with black tie amenities?”

Guests who google “Sea Cloud” see a lot of jacket-and-tie imagery and might conclude, incorrectly, that Sea Cloud is too formal and stuffy for a Caribbean vacation. Not true with Lindblad-National Geographic. Any guests who’ve been aboard National Geographic Explorer, National Geographic Orion, or others, will find it as relaxed and informal as any ship in our fleet. Guests who have never traveled with us before will find it as easygoing as they want for a winter vacation. The contrast between the casual ease Lindblad-National Geographic fosters, and the ship’s old-world elegance and five-star luxury is a real treat. And, there’s another Lindblad-National Geographic difference aboard Sea Cloud—outstanding food.

Under our team’s guidance, the menus are thoughtful and relevant, reflecting local cuisines, and using plenty of local ingredients and fresh fish—in large part due to encouraging the creative authority of our chefs and hotel managers.

We can tell you, based on innumerable guest reactions, that the dining—indoor, outdoor, from snacks to meals—is a highlight.

Sea Cloud also carries a very sophisticated selection of liquors of all types, and many guests enjoy the opportunity to sample so many different whiskies, rums, cognacs, or liqueurs at no cost, given our offer of complimentary bar tab and crew tips.

*There is a large crew of 60 who delight you with their skill and daring in rigging Sea Cloud’s massive array of sails, and who are devoted to your comfort and pleasure during your stay aboard. Enjoy their services with our compliments—gratuities are included in the voyage price.*

— FROM AMERICAN EMPRESS: THE LIFE AND TIMES OF MARJORIE MERRIWEATHER POST

Built in 1931 by businessman E.F. Hutton for his wife Marjorie Merriweather Post, Sea Cloud was originally fitted with two lavishly appointed owner's suites and seven guest staterooms, decorated in a range of styles. In 1979, twenty-six years after Post sold her, the ship, having weathered years of illustrious service and eventual neglect, was gallantly rescued and refurbished. Now Sea Cloud has 28 cabins and two owner's suites, on three decks, in seven categories.

The owner's suites were left virtually intact. Post's cabin, the larger and more opulent, features the all-white, Louis XVI décor used in nearly all her houses, which was a personal signature. Her husband E.F. Hutton's cabin is richly elegant, boasting a walk-in closet and a pink Carrera marble tub. Beyond the beauty and cossetting they promise, these rooms provide an incomparable and rare opportunity. If indeed, “The past is a foreign country,” as this famous quote attests, then Sea Cloud invites you to visit and discover it.

Category 4 cabin.

VOYAGE HIGHLIGHT: There is a tradition on each voyage to take the original owner's cabin 'tour,' always thanks to the cooperation of the guests who might be staying in them! Hard to think of them as cabins, with their fireplaces and massive marble bathtubs and gold fixtures.

A SHIP THAT RIVALS HER MOST THRILLING DESTINATIONS

Sea Cloud is a destination and a reason to travel all in one, but add our unique Caribbean voyages, our carefully crafted Greek Isles and Mediterranean itineraries, plus our unique Lindblad-National Geographic expedition style to her allures, and you have an incomparable travel inspiration. You will also have one of the most exciting sailing experiences of your life as you watch her strong, agile team scale the rigging to manage her billowing sails, or admire the masterful seamanship of her captain. For non-sailors, it will rank among the greatest pieces of pure 'theater' you'll ever have seen.

HOSPITALITY NOTE:

Sea Cloud's 60-person crew is unusually large for 58 guests, and as is the case on any ship, tips are a large part of the crew's income. However, aboard Sea Cloud, we handle the tips; you simply enjoy the show!

“Sailing aboard Sea Cloud is always extraordinary, but experiencing her in the Caribbean, the most beautiful yacht in the harbor, is quintessential...”

Our program in the Windward Isles is focused almost exclusively on the joy of being aboard Sea Cloud. The spectacle of her 60-person crew engaged in the art of sailing her is entertaining and awe-inspiring, regardless of whether they're going aloft in a light breeze or following the captain's orders to set the skysails in a thrilling wind as we're scudding along at 6.5 knots. For anyone with an appetite for history, romance, or just the momentum of a great story, the drama of a tall ship sailing where good winds are most reliably found, through islands that were shaped, traded, won, and lost by such ships, is just plain exhilarating. Returning to Sea Cloud at anchor after a day's excursion is a constant source of pride for everyone who travels on her. To be able to say “I live here” as you re-board the most beautiful yacht in the harbor is a rare privilege. As is the opportunity to experience it, and to say you've sailed with Captain Evgeny Nemerzhitskiy, one of the greatest square-rig captains of the 21st century.

*Inset: Imagine a ship over 360' long and displacing 2,600 tons moving effortlessly under wind power alone at 10 knots. Our sails are made of a very durable synthetic material in Poland and have an average life of about five years. The Sea Cloud carries almost 32,000 square feet of sail (3,000 square meters). # GREECE AND BEYOND: SAILING THE PATHWAYS OF ANCIENT MARINERS

While there are many ways to explore Greece and its neighbors, you'll find that visiting the region aboard an authentic tall ship offers an unrivaled experience—and guarantees an in-depth encounter with the abundant local wonders. As you glide along azure waters on the historic sailing yacht Sea Cloud, you'll view the awe-inspiring sites the way ancient travelers did. While full of the glamour and sophistication of the '30s, Sea Cloud is also a thoroughly modern yacht in terms of safety, technology, and creature comforts—giving you the best of both worlds, timeless elegance, plus the informality that characterizes our expeditions. From the moment you step aboard you'll feel the soul of the ship as surely as you'll feel the winds filling square sails.

Visit the Cyclades, the essence of the Greek Isles. After you sail into the famed caldera of Santoríni, let our guides reveal the picturesque, less-walked side streets and hidden cafés. Or follow a different path that sailors have plied for millennia: from Greece to the Dalmatian Coast. Our beautiful vessel provides an exhilarating way to explore this route. While Sea Cloud is for many the destination, each day's activities will lure even the most resolute chair-lounger out to view the Romanesque architecture and patinaed wonders of this storied region. The knowledge and passion of your Lindblad-National Geographic team will enhance your understanding and appreciation of all you'll see. Cruising along at 10 knots on wind power alone will prove key to a once-in-a-lifetime experience.

“The Greek Isles continue to fascinate and delight the photographer side of me. Walking through the small choras, it feels like I'm walking through a kaleidoscope of colors and textures. These authentic villages are such an amazing mix of architectural details framed by flower pots, hanging vines, store windows, and even the numerous cats that seem to be napping everywhere. Narrow, curved walkways entice me to explore what is just around the corners, or follow an alley to see where it leads. It's all both inviting and mysterious at the same time.”

When so returned, the coverage under the plan is void from the original date of purchase.

Responsibility and Other Terms & Conditions: Certain provisions concerning, among other things, limitations of Lindblad Expeditions' and the National Geographic Society's liability for loss of property, injury, illness or death during the voyage will be provided to all guests on the ship's ticket sent prior to departure, and are also available on our website at www.expeditions.com/terms, or upon request. By registering for a trip, the guest agrees to all such terms and conditions.

Note: Itineraries and prices listed in this brochure are as of publication date and are subject to change. Under normal conditions the total expedition price is guaranteed at the time of booking. However, our expedition pricing is determined far in advance of initial departure on the basis of then-existing projections of fuel and other costs. In the event of increases in those costs, including but not limited to increases in the price of fuel, currency fluctuations, increases in government taxes or levies, or increased security costs, we reserve the right to adjust the price of your expedition or add a surcharge to cover such unexpected increases. We will always provide an explanation of the reason for increase in costs.

Cancellation Policy: Cancellation penalties may apply after payment is received. Please visit www.expeditions.com/terms for complete cancellation policies.
